A Kaleidoscopic View of 1968

Locker-lined hallways link classrooms and laboratories, study halls, cafeteria, and auditorium, all of which set the stage for our education and blend to reveal a design that is "distinctively Manual." Each of the some 2,200 students is influenced and developed by the way he uses his opportunities and meets his challenges. Every individual changes as the pattern in a kaleidoscope responds to the shifting of its colorful pieces.

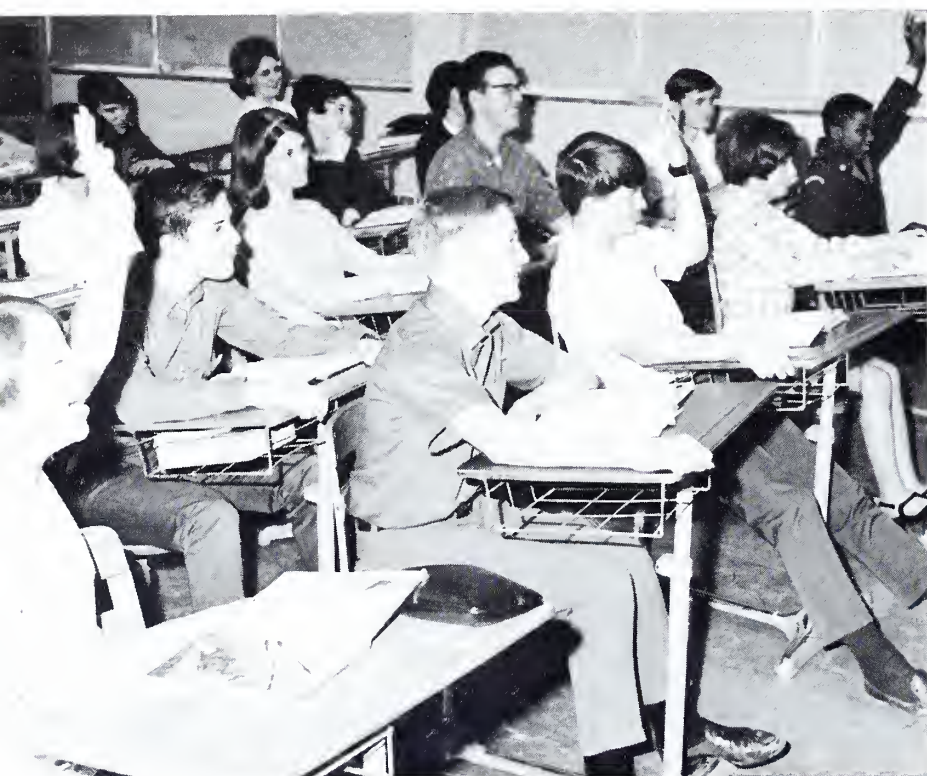

Halls and stairways come alive with students every forty minutes during each day.

Peggy Collier researches in library.

Our academic life revolves around classroom experiences for four years.

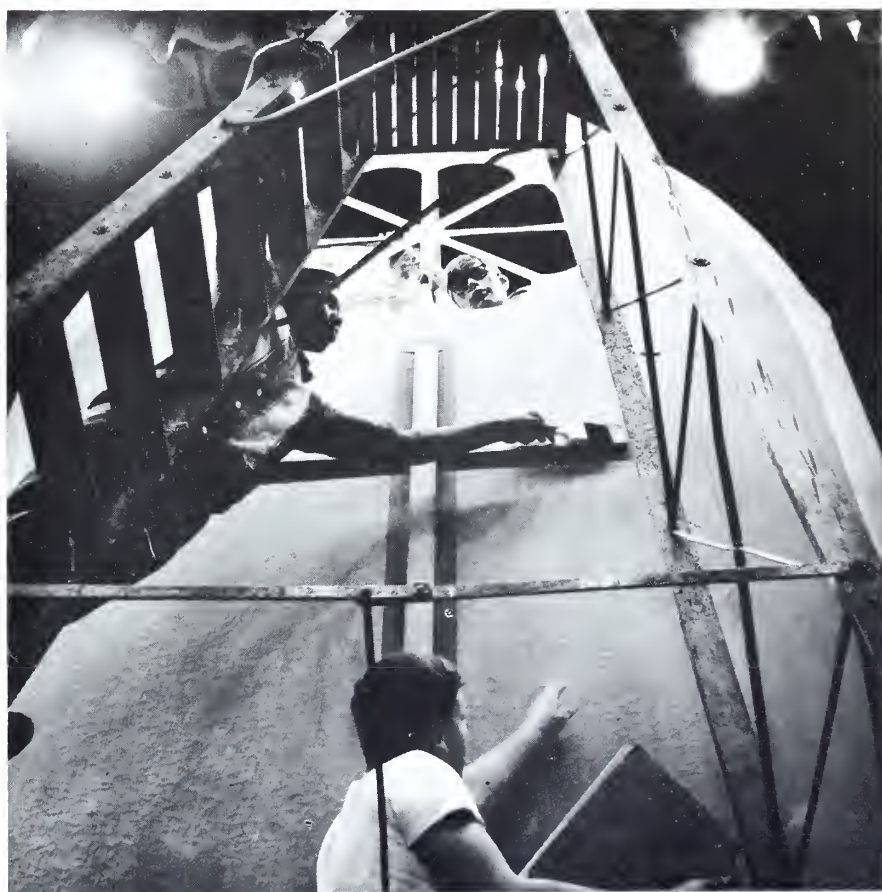

Epitome of the year's dances was the Military Ball.

Pep Band members spark enthusiasm for Redskins at athletic events and pep sessions year 'round.

Like the pieces of a kaleidoscope, all portions of our school days—classes, hours for study, conferences with teachers, club meetings, athletic events, after-game dances, and pleasant associations with schoolmates—merge to form

Our Kaleidoscopic View of '68

Queen Joanna, King Bill Reign over Homecoming

Cheering Manualites back up the Reserve Cheerleaders shouting their approval of a Redskin maneuver on the field.

Glittering crowns, a long runway of white carpet, and a background of pageantry by the Redskin Marching Band blended to make Manual's fifteenth annual Homecoming on October 6 a memorable occasion for everybody. Bill O'Neill and Joanna Hafer received the crowns as Manual's new royalty.

During the halftime of the Manual-Arlington game the procession of King and Queen hopefuls began. The Queen candidates, dressed in gayly colored formals, rode with the King candidates around the football field for the festivities.

Randy Boles and Shirley Eaton, Randy Harrison and Linda Stegemoller, David Hoyt and Linda Medcalf, Ron Christy and Brenda Buescher, Bill O'Neill and Joanna Hafer — all seniors — were seated on top-down convertibles, driven by Lettermen. Freshmen Cindy Bannon and Charles Stanfield were the "papooses," the official crown bearers.

As each car drew up to the 50-yard line, the couple alighted and proceeded to center field along the white carpet. Suspense rose and all was quiet as Principal Wayne Kincaid opened the sealed envelope that announced the King and Queen. Kim Richards and Karen Clark, last year's royalty, passed on their crowns to King Manual XV and his Queen, who had been elected by an all-school vote.

Cuddled in blankets, Redskin Twirlers keep warm in the "cool" bleachers while waiting to perform with the band at halftime.

King Bill and Queen Joanna begin their walk down the carpet of white, flanked by the singing Glee Club as is traditional.

Receive Crowns in Gala Halftime Pageant

Newly crowned King Bill O'Neill and Queen Joanna Hafer are all smiles as they are greeted by the cheering crowd. Bill and Joanna reigned as Manual's Homecoming King and Queen during the halftime pageantry of the fifteenth annual coronation.

King Bill O'Neill escorted Queen Joanna Hafer back to their awaiting car as Mr. Wendall Mertz, Choir Director, sang the traditional "Queen of Manual High" and "Girl of My Dreams." Accompanying him was the Girls Glee Club, in their red and white robes, directed by Mrs. Martha Cross.

The other couples followed in turn. The cars circled the field once more, and the fans hailed Bill and Joanna and their court with enthusiastic applause and cheers of approval.

In spite of the chilling breezes, a crowd of some 5,000 students, teachers, and friends turned out to watch the game and view the Homecoming pageant. Many wore the traditional long-sleeved white mums decorated with red M's and streamers for Homecoming, and yells of "Go Manual" pervaded the cheering section. Letter sweaters dotted the stands as alums took the opportunity to wear them.

Following the 13-14 loss to the Arlington Golden Knights, some 700 Redskins headed for the Cafeteria to attend the second annual Homecoming dance sponsored by the Student Affairs Board. Music was furnished by the "Peppermint Applebush" band; King Bill, Queen Joanna, and alumni were guests.

Education Week Plans

Principal Wayne H. Kincaid dictates while Senior Larry Morwick, his turnabout, takes notes on how to run the school. The two spent the day together doing just that.

American Education Week at Manual was highlighted by Open House and Turnabout Day, which is a Manual feature of the education-oriented week. The week of November 5-11 was set aside for this national observance.

Turnabout Day, November 7, gave many students the opportunity to find out what teaching is really like by stepping behind the teachers' desks for a day. Senior Larry Morwick replaced Mr. Wayne Kincaid as principal, and Walter Jimison took over the duties of Vice-principal Franklin Fisher. Department heads and directors also had turnabouts, as well as other classroom teachers who wanted them. All participants attended a P-TA sponsored social hour in the Home Ec dining room during the afternoon.

Open House on the evening of November 8 began with the faculty-student production of "Reach for the Stars," a one-act play written especially for American Education Week. "Reach for the Stars" was repeated the next day for the entire student body. After the play parents were invited to confer with teachers. ROTC cadets handed out directories indicating where teachers might be located. Masoma and Roines members were on hand throughout the evening to give directions and general aid.

A new feature of Education Week this year was the visitation by teachers in other departments.

Teachers, parents, and students all profited from the Education Week experience. The insight each student gained will enable him to recognize the importance of a good education.

Mrs. Betty Hafer pours punch for Senior Nancy Elrod and her teacher sponsor, Mr. Robert Dunn, at the P-TA sponsored punch party in the Home Economics Department on Turnabout Day.

Vice-Principal-for-a-Day Walter Jimison fills out the forms necessary for the arrival of a package while Mr. Franklin Fisher watches his counterpart approvingly.

Involve All Redskins – Pupils, Teachers, Parents

Mrs. Claude Dodson and Mrs. James Denny, P-TA members, pin boutonnieres on the lapels of Mr. Al Pike and Mr. Howard Darden before open house as Mr. Donald Fisher looks on.

Grade book in hand, Mr. Leland Walter discusses Ruthie Smith's progress with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Birt Smith. Many parents visited school and met their children's teachers.

The faculty and student production, "Reach for the Stars," presented during Education Week, centers around the problem of communication between parents and their children. Pictured here are Mr. Wayne Dunbar, as the father, Mr. Howard Herron, as the photographer, and Senior Judy Lewis, as a nosy neighbor.

'Sound of Music' Invades Manual like Epidemic

The months of October and November proved to be very busy ones for the Music Department as students and faculty advisors readied "The Sound of Music" as this year's musical. The selection of the cast and the pit orchestra members was followed by several weeks of rehearsals and other preparations. The finished production was presented November 17 and 18 to appreciative audiences.

Sophomore Sheila Betzler sang the leading role of Maria Rainer, a young postulant, who left the convent to become the governess of the seven children of Captain George Von Trapp, a retired Navy officer played by Junior Mark Garringer.

"Climb Every Mountain" was sung by Junior Rena Brown who played Mother Abbess. Carol Hill, as Liesel Von Trapp, and Mick Bridgewater, as Rolf Gruber, harmonized on "You are Sixteen Going On Seventeen." Cliff Sutt and Marianne Hedges added a touch of comedy in their roles as Max Detweiler and Elsa Von Schraeder. The most difficult roles to fill were those of the seven Von Trapp children, whose ages ranged from six to sixteen. But with a little practice, false pigtails, and makeup, high schoolers filled the roles.

Enthusiastic performers, musicians, and stage crew members worked wholeheartedly toward the success of "The Sound of Music."

"You Are Sixteen Going on Seventeen," sings Mick Bridgewater who played Rolf Gruber. He and Carol Hill (Liesel Von Trapp) meet secretly in the garden of the Von Trapp family villa.

Saddened by the thought of leaving their homeland, the Von Trapp family listens while Captain Von Trapp sings about the country they love. Members of the family are Ray Rudolph, Sheila Betzler, Mark Garringer, Carol Hill, Cathy Decker, Regina Maple, Terry Hoover, and Denise Durman.

Rolf Gruber, portrayed by Mick Bridgewater, delivers a message for the Captain to the Von Trapp family butler, played by Joe Tutterrow, as Maria (Sheila Betzler) and Liesel (Carol Hill) wait anxiously to learn the contents of the message.

Hoping not to miss any of the stage action, members of the pit orchestra view a practice performance in between the musical numbers of the production.

Nuns Rhonda Barnett, Linda Laue, and Debbie Ackerman, waiting for their cues, watch the dress rehearsal of "The Sound of Music." Their faces register their feeling about the show.

Auditorium Programs Supplement Our Classes

The Indianapolis Symphonic Orchestra entertain Redskins with selections from "My Fair Lady" during an auditorium.

Manuals' auditorium schedule for the year represented wide fields of interest ranging from musical programs to holiday convocations.

Opening the season was the Tee Pee Talent Parade. Seniors Becky Haas and Bob Sterrett acted as Masters of Ceremonies for forty minutes of songs, dances and "commercials" — Redskin Revue tryouts.

"I've Got A Secret," based on the television show by that name, was the theme of the Ivian auditorium which kicked off the sales campaign for Ivian subscriptions. The program gave a sneak preview of materials to be covered in the yearbook.

In an unusual show, one of the few Bohemian glass blowers left in the United States, Mr. Ernest Kober, Jr., created glass figures and letters.

Two convicts from the Reformatory at Pendleton, sponsored by an Exchange Club, visited Manual in February. They answered student questions about conditions at the prison and their personal lives.

For several holidays, Manual presented seasonal auditoriums. Chaplain Harrison Neal of the Marion County Sheriff's Department spoke before the student body for Thanksgiving. The auditorium rang with music at Christmas time, as the Choir, Glee Club, Orchestra, and an Organ and Brass Ensemble combined to present the "Sounds of Christmas."

The singing Christmas tree, made up of the Glee Club, perform in the annual Christmas program during a 3A-3B Auditorium. The girls also sang for a community concert the preceding night.

Mrs. Robert Land serves a Manual fan from one of the P-TA's two concession stands at Delavan Smith Field. The crowds wander back and forth between the bleachers and the stands for popcorn, sandwiches, soft drinks, and coffee. Junior John Stroud is assisting Mrs. Land.

Moms, Dads, Teachers Work Together for Extras

Our moms, dads, and teachers work behind the scenes at Manual to provide extras for which no official funds are available. The P-TA's concession stands are popular places during the football season. The Dads Club operates the refreshment counter in the gymnasium during the basketball season.

Dads Club also made money sponsoring the WIFE-Faculty basketball game in February. Moms and Dads both helped with the Fall and Spring Athletic Banquets. P-TA and Dads Club funds pay for such things as uniforms, the school bus, scholarships, and summer work shop and camp fees.

In April the P-TA had the annual Pow Wow, the biggest money-raising event of the year. Many school clubs participated by setting up "shops" in the gymnasium — the carnival part of the affair. They sold assorted items to Redskins and visitors; and sponsored "gaming" booths. Parents served dinner in the cafeteria and sponsored a variety show in the auditorium and a Pow-Wow dance in the cafeteria.

Publications Staffer Marjorie Boyd cuts pictures apart for Greg Jinks and Diane McDonnell at the "Pic-Parade."

We Relax at Dances On Weekend Evenings

Manual students find that weekend dances of all kinds give them a chance to relax after school. The four informal Student Affairs Board after-game dances featured live bands during football and basketball seasons. One of these, the Homecoming Dance, honored King Manual XV and his Queen. The Lettermen's Club also sponsored a hop after a wrestling meet as well as one with the SAB. The yearbook's "Pic Parade" provided students an opportunity to buy and exchange pictures while listening to their favorite records. The IVIAN staff distributes yearbooks at the "John Henry Hop" in May. The first Roines Romp combined psychedelic decorations and the antics of pledges to produce a "Hippie Happening." The first name band to entertain at Manual, the "Dawn Five," came in January for the second Roines Romp.

Traditional military dress and decorations set the cafeteria for the semi-formal Military Ball. Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Queen by Principal Wayne Kincaid. Juniors attended their prom, "Hawaiian Sunset," in April at the I.U. Med Center. Climax of four years for seniors was their Prom at the Indiana Roof, June 7.

Typical of the crowds that enjoy after-game dances, these students dance to the music of a live band at the hop sponsored by the Lettermen's Club and the Student Affairs Board.

'Revue' Combines Student Ingenuity, Talent

Seniors Robert Cooper and Peggy Mayfield admire each other's winning design for the Redskin Revue poster and program.

The 38th annual all-school musical involved some three hundred students and teachers.

Eight teachers took on the tasks of advising the acts. Mr. Leland Walter and Miss Ann Becker helped with "Toytime." Miss Ann Manning and Mr. Carsey Gentry were sponsors for "Jungle Jubilee"; Mr. Ed Wall and Mr. Ronald Green, for "The Fall and Decline of Julius Greaser"; Mr. Robert Healy and Mr. Paul Schnepl, for "Psychedelic Pstory."

The "Big Four" worked hand-in-hand, perfecting the Revue as a whole. Mr. Fred Bennett, coordinator, handled the dramatics. Mr. Carl Wright built sets for each act; Mr. Wendall Mertz worked with the vocal music, particularly solos; and Mr. William Kleyla directed the fourteen-piece Pit Band.

Behind-the-scene workers included some 80 Redskins, in addition to actors and dancers. Mr. Wright's stage crew worked for weeks toward the completion of the four sets. The make-up crew put "faces" on the actors for performance nights, and two shifts of formal-clad Usherettes seated guests.

Redskin Revue, the annual student-written, student-directed dramatic musical production, played to full houses March 22 and 23.

"Toytime" written by Senior Shelly Johnson and Junior Sally Sublett took place in a toy shop. After the storekeeper had gone home for the night, the good fairy, Serena, came to awake all the toys. They were faced with several problems ranging from Josie, the ugly doll, to a show-off rabbit.

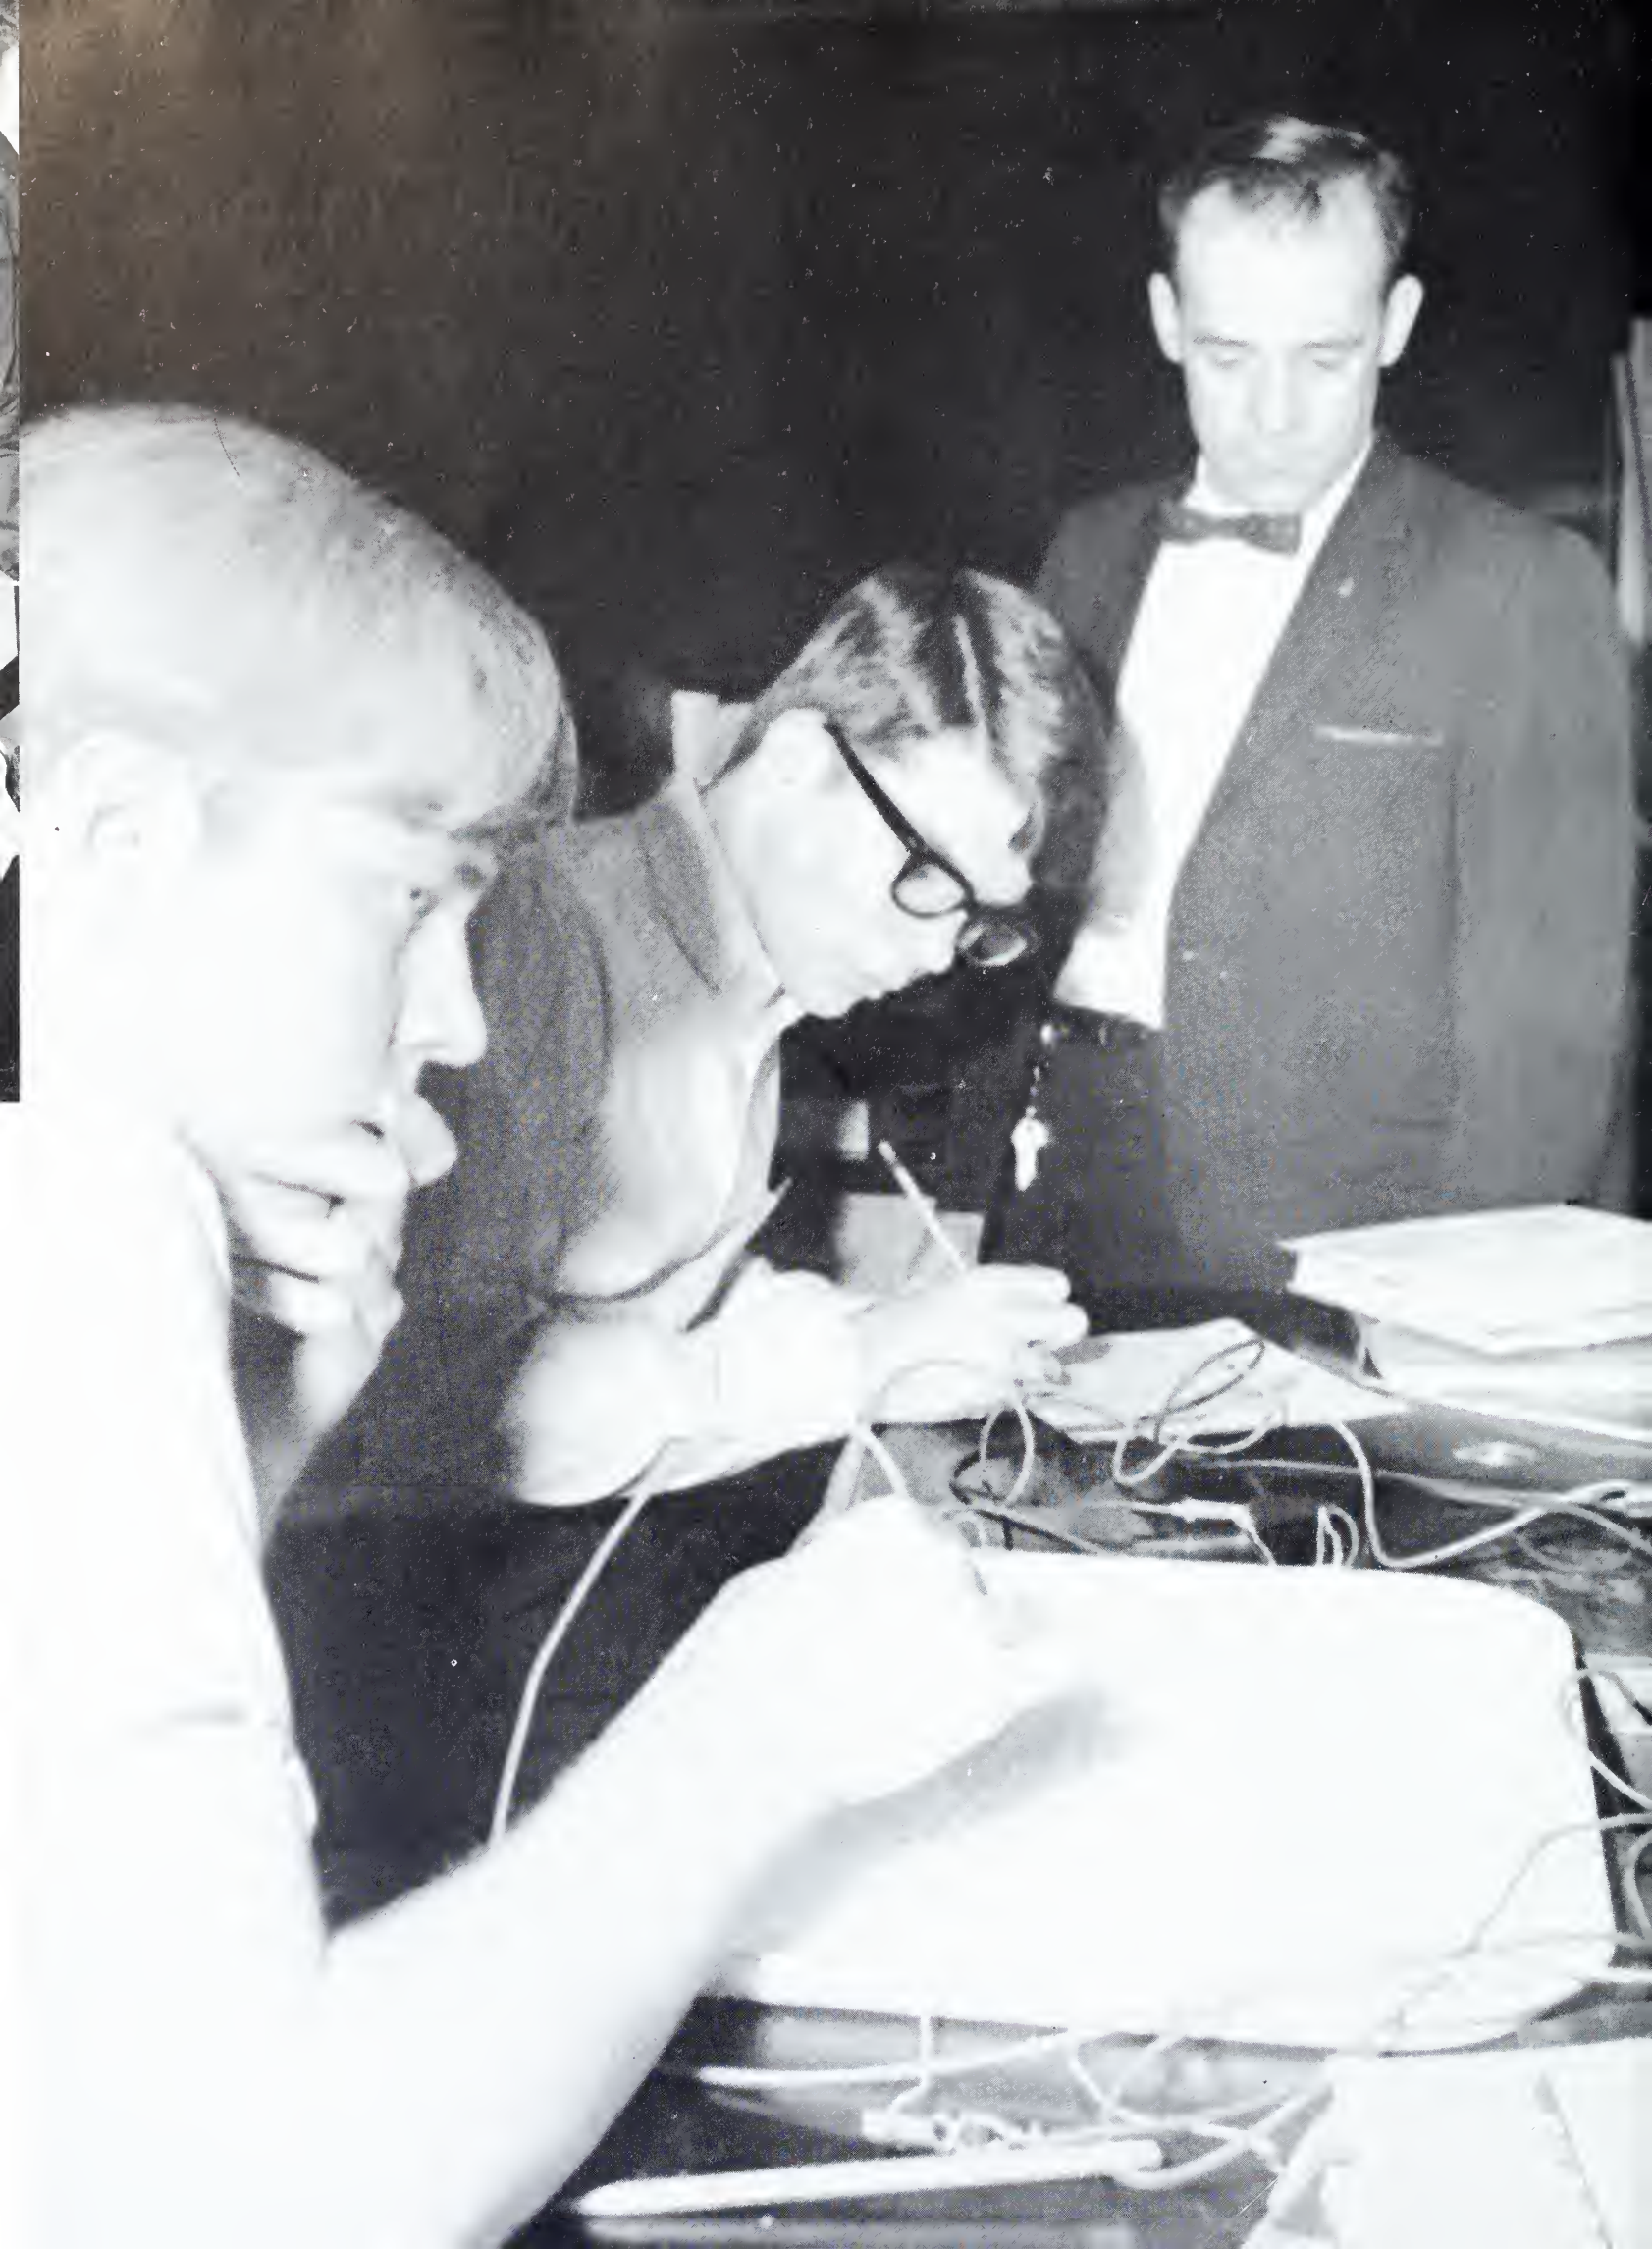

"Jungle Jubilee" was written by Seniors Chip Goss and Bob Yocum. Willie Tell, who had found himself on an island in the jungle, refused to salute the king's sock so he faced death. But Sherry, the slave girl, came to his rescue.

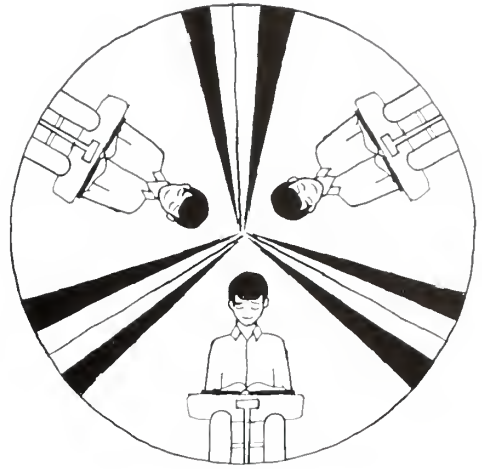

"The Fall and Decline of Julius Greaser," by Seniors Greg Fitzgibbons and Ron Nye and Junior Mark Garringer, went back to early Rome. Julius, the slave master, gave a party for his bride to be, Cleoptra. During the banquet the slaves rebelled, and Cleoptra fell in love with an innocent slave.

"Psychedelic Pstory" was written by Seniors Doug McCrady and Don Switzer. Pamela Pureheart and Timothy Wierdy, her "hippy" boyfriend, had quite a time living with the "hippies" in San Francisco until Mr. Pureheart sent out the detective, Lance Love Guard, to break up the couple. Their miseries ended when Lance helped Pam and Tim.

We Find Improving Our English a 'Must' for Living

Mr. Edward Green, speech teacher, demonstrates the correct method of voice projection to Seniors Nancy Elrod and Chip Goss who seem to be enjoying his technique.

The English Department strives to give students a broad background in all aspects of the English language. From the practical use of grammar to the appreciation of literature, students learn the basics of oral and written communication.

The newest English course offered at Manual is the oral-aural-visual approach to teaching written composition on the freshman level. The technique used in the OAV program is one in which the pupil first speaks, then hears, writes, and rethinks his written work with the aid of tape recorders.

Combining a study of art and music with that of literature, the Humanities class studies the development of western civilizations. A highlight of this class was a trip to several Chicago museums.

English and United States History were fused in the formation of "Histlish," a special two-semester course for juniors.

Etymology, a study of Greek and Latin derivatives, helps to build students' vocabularies and teaches them how to analyze words for meaning.

Oral expression is stressed in a one-semester course in Speech. This class gives students an opportunity to develop their speaking abilities by making many different types of speeches.

The English Department publication, "Manual Manuscripts," includes writing from all classes.

Freshmen in one of Mrs. Marilyn Dever's OAV classes study newspapers to get a better idea of journalistic style. The OAV technique of teaching was used for the first time this year on an experimental basis at Manual and in five other city high schools. A special laboratory room was set up for these classes.

Adjusting the volume controls, Miss Ann Manning, Spanish teacher, helps Dave Adams in the Language Lab. Students usually spend one or two days a week working in the lab.

New Languages Prepare Us for College, Travel

Foreign languages aid students in preparation for college and in a better understanding of other countries. The four-year programs offered at Manual in Spanish, French, and Latin stress the cultural as well as grammatical aspects of the study of the foreign languages.

The use of the Language Lab helps students to learn correct pronunciation and gives the teacher the opportunity to give individual attention to many students. By recording their own voices, students are able to detect their own mistakes and correct them through practice.

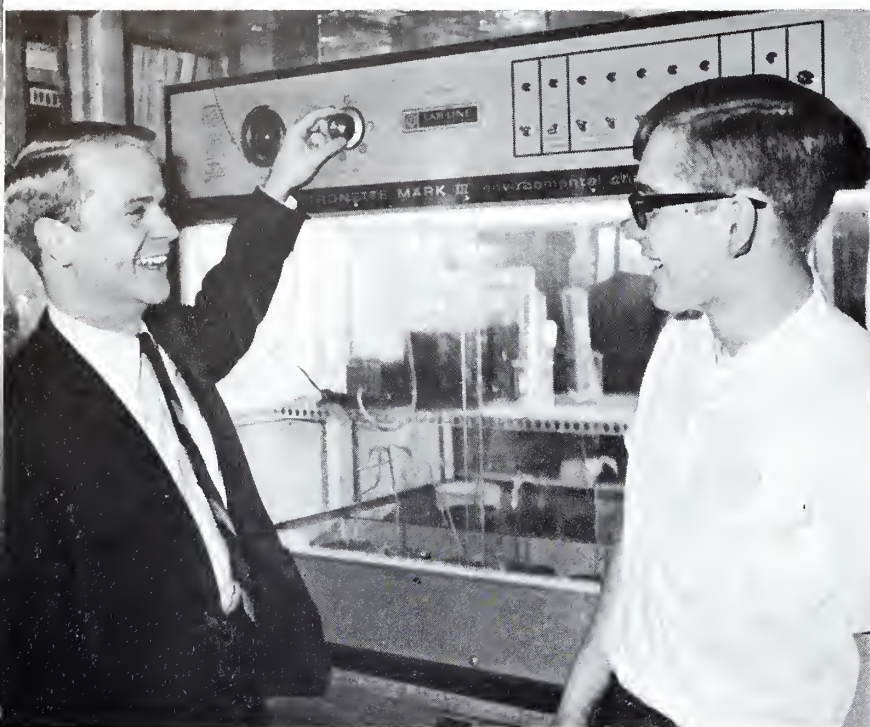

Manual's Language Department takes pride in the fact that many of its students compete in the Indiana University Honors Program. All foreign language students who are in their junior year may take written examinations to meet the requirements for this program. This year three language students entered the final rounds of competition.

Mr. Albert Steiner points out places of interest in Rome for David Treeter who will be going to Italy this summer with the Honors Program. Mr. Steiner will go as an advisor.

Mr. Carsey Gentry confers with Juniors Shirley Craig and Mark Janke about the possibility of their going to Mexico this summer with the Indiana University Honors Program.

Science, Math Help Develop Logical Minds

Mr. David Otto and Junior Richard Kriese operate the environmental chamber in the Science Department. The chamber is used as a "plant incubator" for Biological experiments.

Math and Science complement each other, as some of the principals of each are utilized in their respective areas of teaching.

The Math Department offers a wide variety of courses to all Manualites. The basics of mathematics are taught in General Math, Algebra 1 and 2, and Geometry 1 and 2 — open to freshmen and sophomores. A mathematics major may further his studies in Algebra 3 and 4, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and Analytic Geometry, the union of Algebra and Geometry — open to juniors and seniors. Calculus is a one-semester course for math majors who plan to continue in the field of mathematics when they go on to college.

Studies in the Science Department include plants and animals, the elements, and the earth. All sophomores take Biology 1 and 2, where they study primitive man, animals, and insects, as well as present day mammals, insects, and botany, plus physiology. As juniors, Redskins have the choice of Chemistry, a study of the elements, their composition, and uses, or Earth Science, which deals with the soil, conservation, and the atmosphere. A science major continues into Physics, the study of energy with emphasis on mathematical interpretation.

In the new Earth Science laboratory, Seniors Doug McCrady and Dan Bowers probe into the "tiny world of the unknown." The Earth Science Laboratory is new to Manual this year; it was constructed during the fall semester.

Seniors Wayne Lewis and Horst Richter check out their Physics experiment of graphing force fields using negative and positive charged probes. The information collected is used to validate definitions of electrical terms such as voltage and watts.

Junior Keith Millay is finding the Gas Law constant by driving off an unknown gas from a liquid for a Chemistry Laboratory.

Senior Ron Nye displays a figure he made to prove the basic Geometry theorem, in Mr. Fred Alhemeyer's Geometry 1 class.

Pupils Trace Man's Progress in Social Studies

Manual's Social Studies Department "covers the globe" in a study of man and his achievements in governmental systems and economic problems.

Citizenship, which helps pupils understand their rights and responsibilities as Americans, and World History, which begins with primitive man and follows his history up to the present, are offered for freshmen. Anthropology, also available to freshmen, introduces students to the concepts of changing cultures and developments, and directs them to thinking scientifically about society.

All juniors take United States History, a requirement for graduation. Histlish, a special two-period, two-semester class for selected juniors combines United States History and English 5 and 6.

Completing three years of Social Studies, Economics and Government are required courses. Government helps prepare seniors to assume their responsibilities as adult citizens by giving them knowledge of the structure of our governmental system and of the election of public officials.

International Relations and Psychology are electives for juniors and seniors. Psychology helps the individual to better understand human behavior. International Relations involves the operation of commerce with other nations and problems concerning our relationship with neighboring countries.

The bones of early man are studied by the freshmen taking Anthropology. Here Blake Housam, Jill Ferris, Ilze Berzins, and Mark Ellis examine some specimens closely.

Dr. Fern Stukenbroeker, from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, lectures to Mr. Roland Hawkins' senior Government class about communism and under-cover spy rings. Dr. Stukenbroeker also spoke to all Manualites earlier during a 3A-3B Auditorium. He gave many examples of how "commies" have been caught smuggling micro film out of the country.

Business Ed 'Types' Us for Jobs, College

Business skills of various kinds train Manualites for future vocations. The courses studied in the Business Education Department are valuable to the students who work during the summer or those who take jobs immediately after graduation.

Two years of Typing are available and highly recommended for both future jobs and college. Two years of Shorthand may be followed by Office Training during the junior or senior years. Filing, Bookkeeping, and Machine Calculation round out a major in business and prepare for immediate jobs.

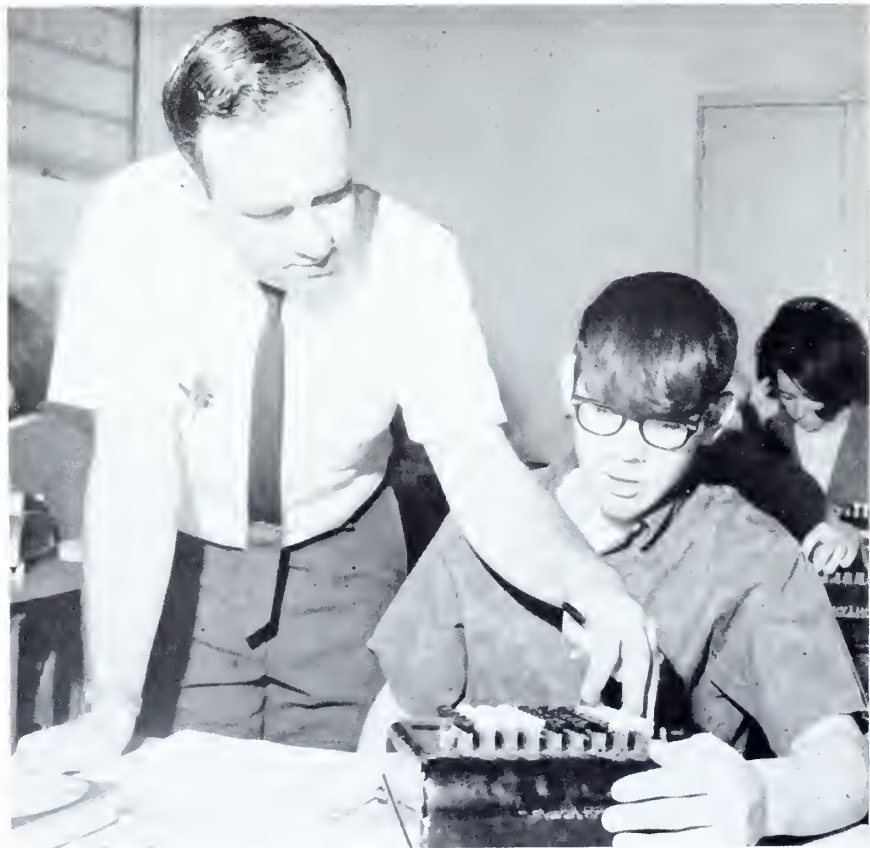

In General Business 1 and 2, Redskins get a look at the business world. Data Processing, a one-semester, one-credit course, is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors. This teaches the operation of computers and key punch machines, and how to wire an instruction panel board. Business Law helps students learn the legal aspects of business.

Typing awards — Master, Intermediate, and Primary — are given at the end of each six weeks' grading period. In Shorthand, awards for transcribing with 95 percent accuracy are also won by outstanding students.

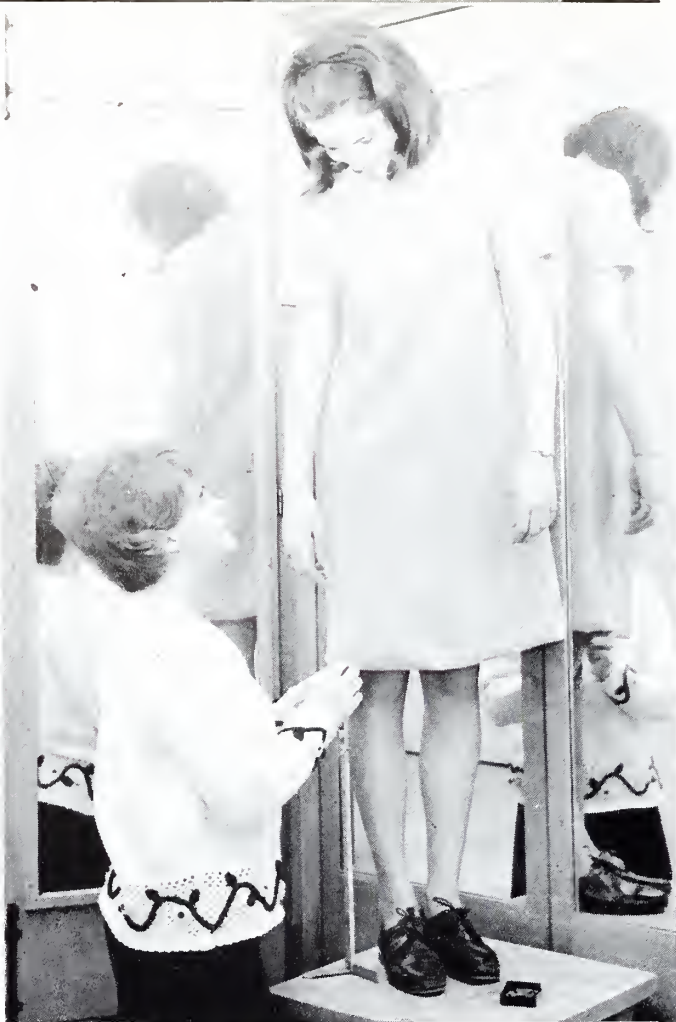

Juniors Janice Green, Janie Powell, and Carol Riewer build speed with practice during a timed writing in typing class.

Junior Johnny Cooper practices use of the adding machine, a skill business majoring Manualites find valuable.

Mr. Richard Crowder helps Junior Kerry Smith to better understand the operation of the adding machine in "Machine Cal."

Junior Janice Thomas pins up the hem of the dress Senior Arlene Harlan is making in Advanced Clothing class.

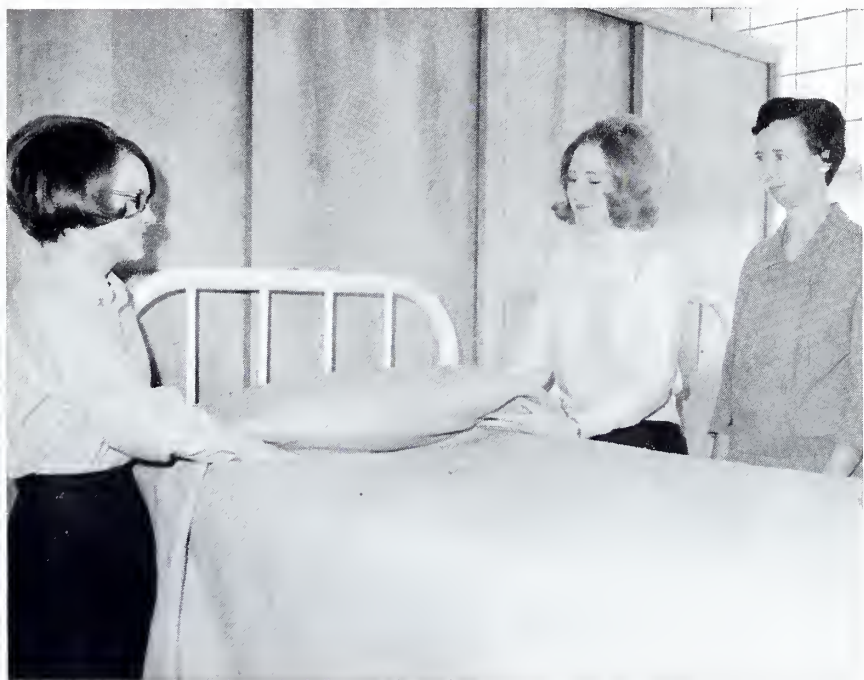

Homemaking Skills Ready Us for Future

The Home Economics Department provides girls with knowledge and skills in clothing, foods, family living, home management, and home nursing.

Boys have the opportunity to test their talent in the kitchen by taking Boys' Foods, which is offered to juniors and seniors only. In Foods 1-4 girls learn to cook breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners as well as to prepare special gourmet dishes. Advanced classes of girls got first hand experience by preparing and serving a meal to visiting principals on November 19, and for ROTC inspectors in May.

In Clothing 1-4 the girls' study covers everything from using a pattern to the construction of formals. Developing sewing skills by making a simple garment, such as a blouse or skirt, precedes the creating of the professional looking clothes which are seen in the display cases in the Home Economics Department.

The climax of the year's events was the Home Economics Department's participation in the Projects Fair at the close of spring semester. Girls modeled their garments for the annual style show.

Linda Bechman and Judy Bohall practice the proper way to make a sick bed while Mrs. Jean Bacus supervises their work.

Brenda Dodson and Susan Creasey try their hand at making doughnuts, a favorite with girls in the cooking classes. The girls party with the doughnuts when they are done.

Shops Develop 'Know How' for Home, Industry

Manual boys learn practical skills in the Industrial Arts Department in Wood, Metal, Electric, Machine, and Auto Shops; and a few girls have invaded the Printing and Mechanical Drawing classes.

In Auto Shop boys study cars, their function and care. They learn to repair brakes, transmissions, and other car parts, by actual "doing."

Many of the office forms, tickets, and posters used by the school are printed in Print Shop by students. Senior Mae Mink silk screened all the armbands for the Senior Class as her project.

Architectural Drawing incorporates the study of designing and blue-printing, and both buildings and landscaping are included. Many pupils design houses.

The Industrial Arts Department developed an exhibit for the Hobby Show at the Fair Grounds last November. The display, a patio with lawn furniture and garden, used drawings from Mechanical and Architectural Drawing classes as a background.

In Metal Shop, Dale Norris and Richard Conner built a small tractor trailer for Mr. Owen Johnson, a Manual teacher. The boys entered the trailer in an Arc Welding Contest along with photographs and a detailed explanation of its construction.

Mark Hebble runs a board through the power saw, to cut off strips of wood for his project as Larry Graves observes.

Mike Craig applies the skills that he has learned in Auto Shop, while he is repairing the brakes on a car, left. In Metal Shop, Eddie Penna learns the manipulation of the metal cutter from Mr. Dale Reid, center. When the printing machines roll, John Wagner is prepared to print office forms.

Singers, Instrumentalists Find Classes Rewarding

From classes on the beginner's level to concert organizations, Manual's Music Department offers a wide selection of studies. Music appreciation and the development of musical skills are the basic elements stressed in all phases of the Music Department's widely diversified program.

In vocal music, Boys and Girls Chorus classes bring together students who enjoy singing. Members of these classes may audition for placement in Choir Prep, or in either of the concert organizations, Concert Choir or Girls' Glee Club.

Instrumentalists in beginning string, wind, and percussion classes learn basic skills and earn the opportunity to audition for the performing groups, Band and Orchestra.

Music Theory, a course in music fundamentals, gives advanced students a chance to learn about classical and modern composers, and to gain a more technical knowledge of music. Each pupil, using what he learns, tries a composition of his own.

The Music Department combines efforts for a musical production in the fall and the May Festival in the spring. All musicians are eligible to compete in contests on both the district and state levels.

Drummers George Hall, Brent Porter, and Walter Pinkins get the beat from Mr. William Kleyla as Mike Craig observes.

Mr. Wendell Mertz points out the melodic line in the score for the Music Theory class — Don Switzer, Joe Huff, Student Teacher James Berger, Dan Harvey, Pam Sparks, Cindy Bridgewater, Sanford Freeman, Becky Haas, Marianne Hedges, Jim Jarrett, and Mike Stevens—as they listen to the record of the same music.

Creativity Abounds with Manual Artists

Through the varied classes in the Art Department, pupils learn to express themselves creatively. From the beginning art classes, where fundamentals are taught, to the advanced Commercial Art class, where designs for posters and programs used for school productions are made, students learn that both imagination and skill are essential in art.

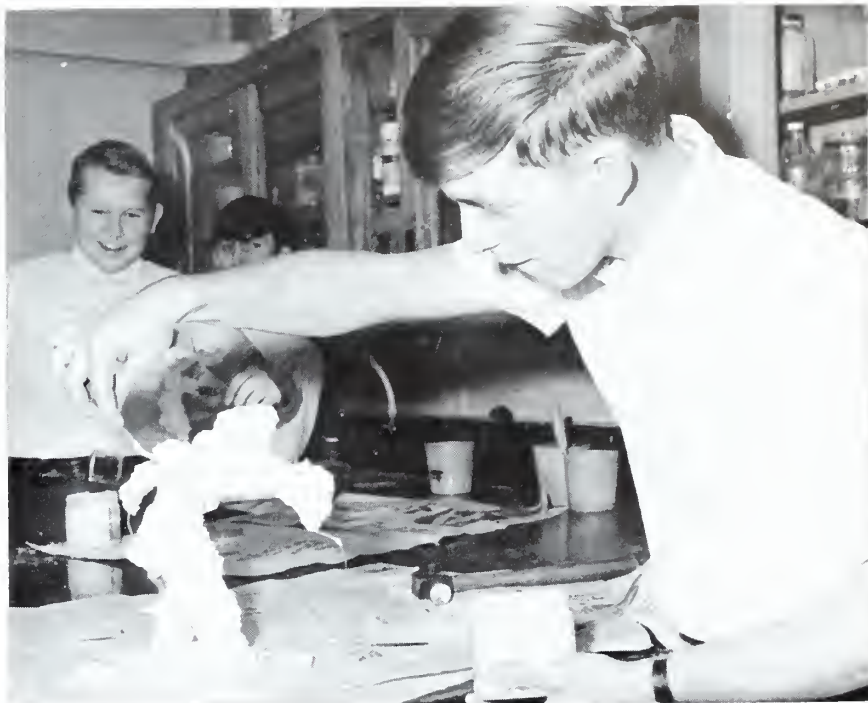

In Craft Arts classes, pupils make such things as mosaics out of ceramic tile, carving out of styrofoam, and leather and hand-woven articles. Along this same line, students enrolled in Jewelry classes are taught to use soft metals and semi-precious stones to create bracelets and other jewelry.

Painting, drawing, lettering, and illustrating are studied in the beginning fine arts classes while sculpturing, oil painting, acrylic painting, and a study of the Old Masters make up the program of studies for advanced artists.

Senior art students trying for art scholarships must make up a portfolio containing some of their work to be submitted for judging by art schools.

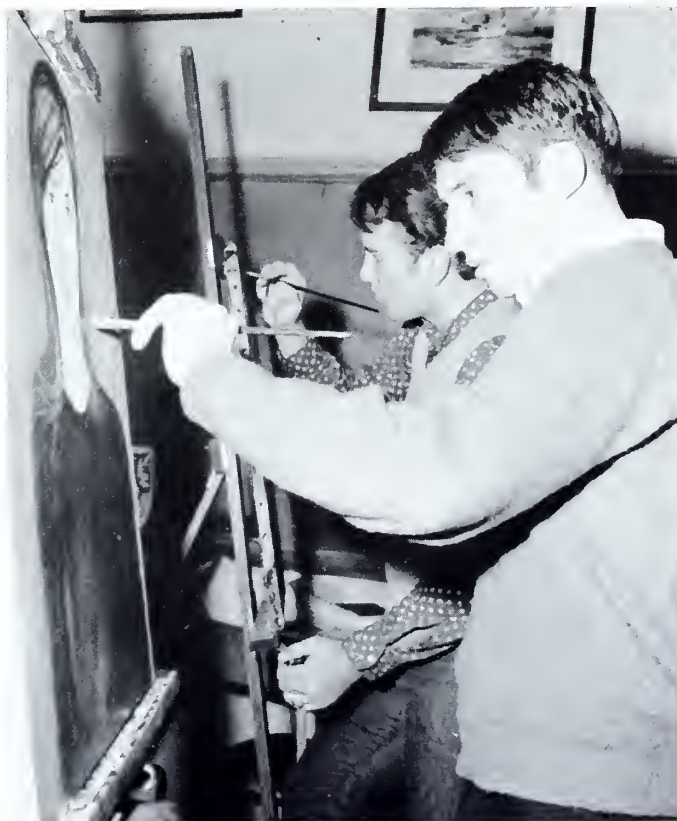

Manual's Art Department sent some two hundred pieces of art to the Scholastic art contest sponsored by L. S. Ayres and the Indianapolis Star. Eight art students won Gold Keys, the highest award given in the contest, and several students received honorable mentions for their entries.

Wearing goggles as a protective measure, Jerry Robinson solders a ring, which is one of his projects in jewelry class.

Bill Madden adds more plaster to his Craft Arts project, an unusual plaster figure, while classmate Jim Dinkins watches.

Perfection as their goal, Seniors Steve Lowery and John Jones work on portraits, a requirement in scholarship application.

'Big' ROTC Serves School in Many Ways

Manual's ROTC, the largest unit proportionately in the city, gives military instruction to cadets and performs many services for the school.

Freshmen learn first aid, military history, the use and care of weapons, and courtesies and customs of all branches of the service. The second year of ROTC combines freshmen studies with map reading and combat tactics. During the last two years, advanced courses in all of the areas are taken.

Cadets serve Manual by acting as doormen at all productions and P-TA meetings. ROTC is in charge of a color guard which presents the flag at Basketball games, and of the roping off of the playing floor for protection before, after, and at half-time.

Special groups, Drill Team and Rifle Team, give cadets an opportunity to compete with other students and with ROTC units of other schools.

Each year ten senior girls are chosen by vote of the ROTC cadets to act as sponsors. One of these girls supervises the weekly Friday inspection.

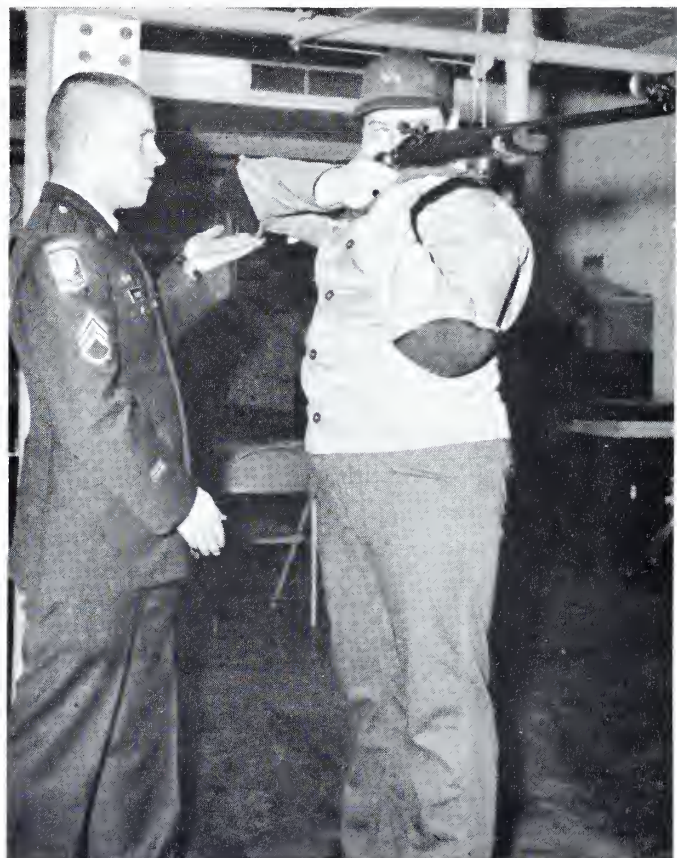

A formal Military Ball highlights the ROTC program. Rosalind Finley reigned as queen this year.

Placing third in a drill team meet conducted by North Central High School, Manual's Drill Team includes Larry Collins, Sponsor Dora Gilly, Wayne Lewis, James Ongley, Bill Binkley, Larry Clark, Keith Martin, James Land, Frank Prindle.

Backed by the Indiana World War Memorial, Manual's ROTC Color Guard leads Manual's unit in the Veterans Day Parade.

Senior Horst Richter sights the target during a practice session on the rifle range with the help of Sgt. Joseph Thomas.

Physical Education is a half credit course required of all Manual freshmen. Redskins interested in calisthenics, tumbling, and gymnastics find Advanced Physical Education available to them.

Girls' gymnastics include work on many types of apparatus. Tumbling exercises are put together in a routine and performed to music, and girls also learn various kinds of dances. They have practice in horse shoes, golf, basketball, badminton, and softball. In the spring they participate in track.

Boys' classes go outside for baseball, football and softball when weather permits. Each year gymnastics classes have a decathlon. A set number of points is awarded to an individual if he successfully completes a particular event. A medal rewards the "high point getter." A new competition for boys this year was weight lifting. Freshmen competed to see who could "press" the most weight.

Driver Education is designed to teach Manualites to be good drivers. They are also schooled to be defensive drivers with proper attitudes. Students get "on-the-road" experience along with their classroom work in this one-semester, one-credit course.

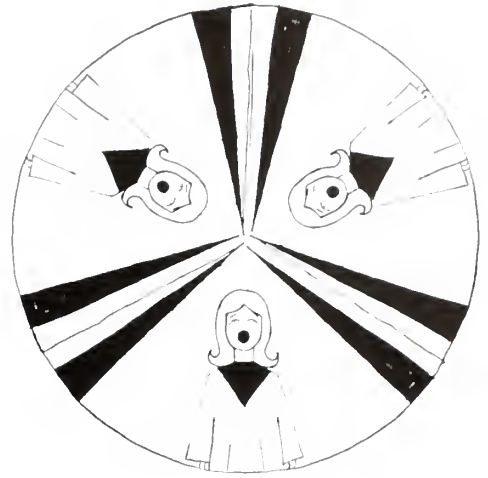

Girls in Miss Ann Becker's Advanced Gym Class have their "ups and downs" as they go through their every day exercises.

Masoma, Roines Clubs

Masoma, senior girls' honorary, kept up its tradition of service throughout the school year. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Betty Baker, who is herself a Masoma from her senior year at Manual, the girls planned several of their own projects and helped other organizations carry out theirs.

Masomas started serving on the first day of school by guiding freshmen to their classes and helping freshman Home Room teachers with their first day routines. The Freshman-Masoma Mixer gave freshman girls a chance to get acquainted with Masomas and their organization as well as with other 9B's. Members also helped at the fall Athletic Banquet and acted as hostesses for Open House.

A Rummage Sale provided the money which was used for the annual "Clothe a Child" project at Christmas time. Masomas set tables and served guests at the Alumni Banquet in February. "Squirt the Flirt," the Masoma booth at the Pow Wow, featured the pledges as targets for squirt gun shooters.

Officers this year were Peggy Collier, president; Jody Hafer, vice-president; Anne Ford and Dawn Hubbs, secretaries; Marianne Hedges, treasurer; and Carol Hallock, historian.

Masoma activities are pictured above. Ramona Morris, Anne Ford, and Marianne Hedges set tables for the Alumni Banquet.

Follow Tradition of Service to Everyone

Mr. Dennis Jackson, an active Roines member during his senior year at Manual, led the senior boys' honorary through its year of service.

Roines projects throughout the year included making and hanging the Roines Wreath at Christmas, servicing the "Roines Refresher," which is a cold drink machine in the faculty lounge, and manning a coat-check on the evening of the Alumni Birthday Party in February.

Roines Romps, dances sponsored by this honorary, provided two entertaining evenings during the school year. The first romp, "The Hippie Happening," featured a live band and all members of Roines dressed as "hippies." Pledges entertained by dancing as "go-go guys." The other Roines Romp presented Manual with another first. The "Dawn Five," a top-name combo in Indiana, provided music for what proved to be a very successful dance.

The club's annual Pow Wow booth, the Roines Dunk, once again was highlighted by the "dunking" of Roines members into a tub of water if customers were dead-eyes with a baseball and rang the "dunking bell." It attracted many "hurlers."

The hard working officers of this year's club were Bob Yocum, president; Chip Goss, vice-president; Bob Sterrett, secretary; Walter Jimison, treasurer, and Don Switzer, historian.

Honor Society Rewards Scholarship, Service

Posing with the emblem of the National Honor Society, the large keystone, are officers — Secretary Anne Ford, President Don Goebel, Vice-President Peggy Collier, and Treasurer Tina Pickard, who assisted with pledging ceremonies.

Thirty-three students were initiated into the Manual chapter of the National Honor Society this year. Including the thirteen already active members, the total membership reached forty-six.

To qualify for membership a student must be evaluated in four areas — scholarship, leadership, service, and character — by members of the faculty. Juniors eligible must carry a 6.75 grade average, and seniors must have a 6.25 average. Membership cannot exceed ten percent of the Senior Class and three percent of the Junior Class.

The names of Honor Society pledges were announced during a "ribbon ceremony" in the Auditorium, April 27. Newly elected members were given a cluster of ribbons which signify the four qualities of Honor Society members.

The formal initiation took place April 28. President Don Goebel administered the National Honor Society oath to all Society members both on stage and in the audience. The color symbols of the society — gold representing scholarship; royal purple, leadership; red, service; and white, character — were explained by four active members. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the library which honored the initiates.

All Classes Have Voice through SAB

Manual's Student Affairs Board, which meets twice monthly, is made up of class representatives. The Board is the "middle-man" between students and the administration working to benefit both.

SAB organized and was responsible for a number of activities. After-game dances proved popular as always with basketball fans. For the second year, an Alumni Dance after the homecoming game was planned with the help of the Affairs Board.

During the Sectional season, President Bill O'Neill served as an exchange speaker at Wood to discuss sportsmanship. The Intra-city Student Council, of which Manual is a member, ran its annual slogan contest. Senior Imogene Parker was recipient of a Sectional ticket for writing the winning Manual slogan which was entered in city-wide competition. Pins were voted for SAB members for the first time. The year closed with a picnic rewarding all efforts.

Thespians 'Bloom' Producing 'Chalk Garden'

Laurel, played by Judie Blonder, takes a peak at the sleeping Judge, Don Goebel, in a scene from the "Chalk Garden."

Manual's stage became a familiar place to members of Thespians, Mask and Wig, and the Stage Crew this year. Whether rehearsing speaking parts or building sets, all three groups worked many extra hours in preparation for their productions.

Thespians, a dramatic honorary, presented a three-act play, "The Chalk Garden," in October. Besides giving plays, Thespians present holiday convocations as a service to the school. Mr. Fred Bennett, sponsor, and Bob Sterrett, president, conducted bi-weekly meetings at which the group discussed the theater and presented cuttings of plays. Members of Thespians also played speaking roles in this year's musical and Redskin Revue.

In December, Mask and Wig staged a one-act play, "Ye Who Sit by the Fire," Mr. Wayne Dunbar, first-year sponsor, directed the play which was presented in the style of "theater-in-the-round." During meetings, time was spent working on stage movement, diction, projection, and make-up. Thespians and Mask and Wig members toured Clowes Hall.

Behind the scene workers, the stage crew and Mr. Carl Wright, sponsor, created all of the stage sets for Manual's productions. Tim Dale, student stage manager, and his assistants built sets and changed them when needed in the production.

Performing Music Groups

All four of Manual's performing music groups present programs for school and community functions as well as combining for their own concerts.

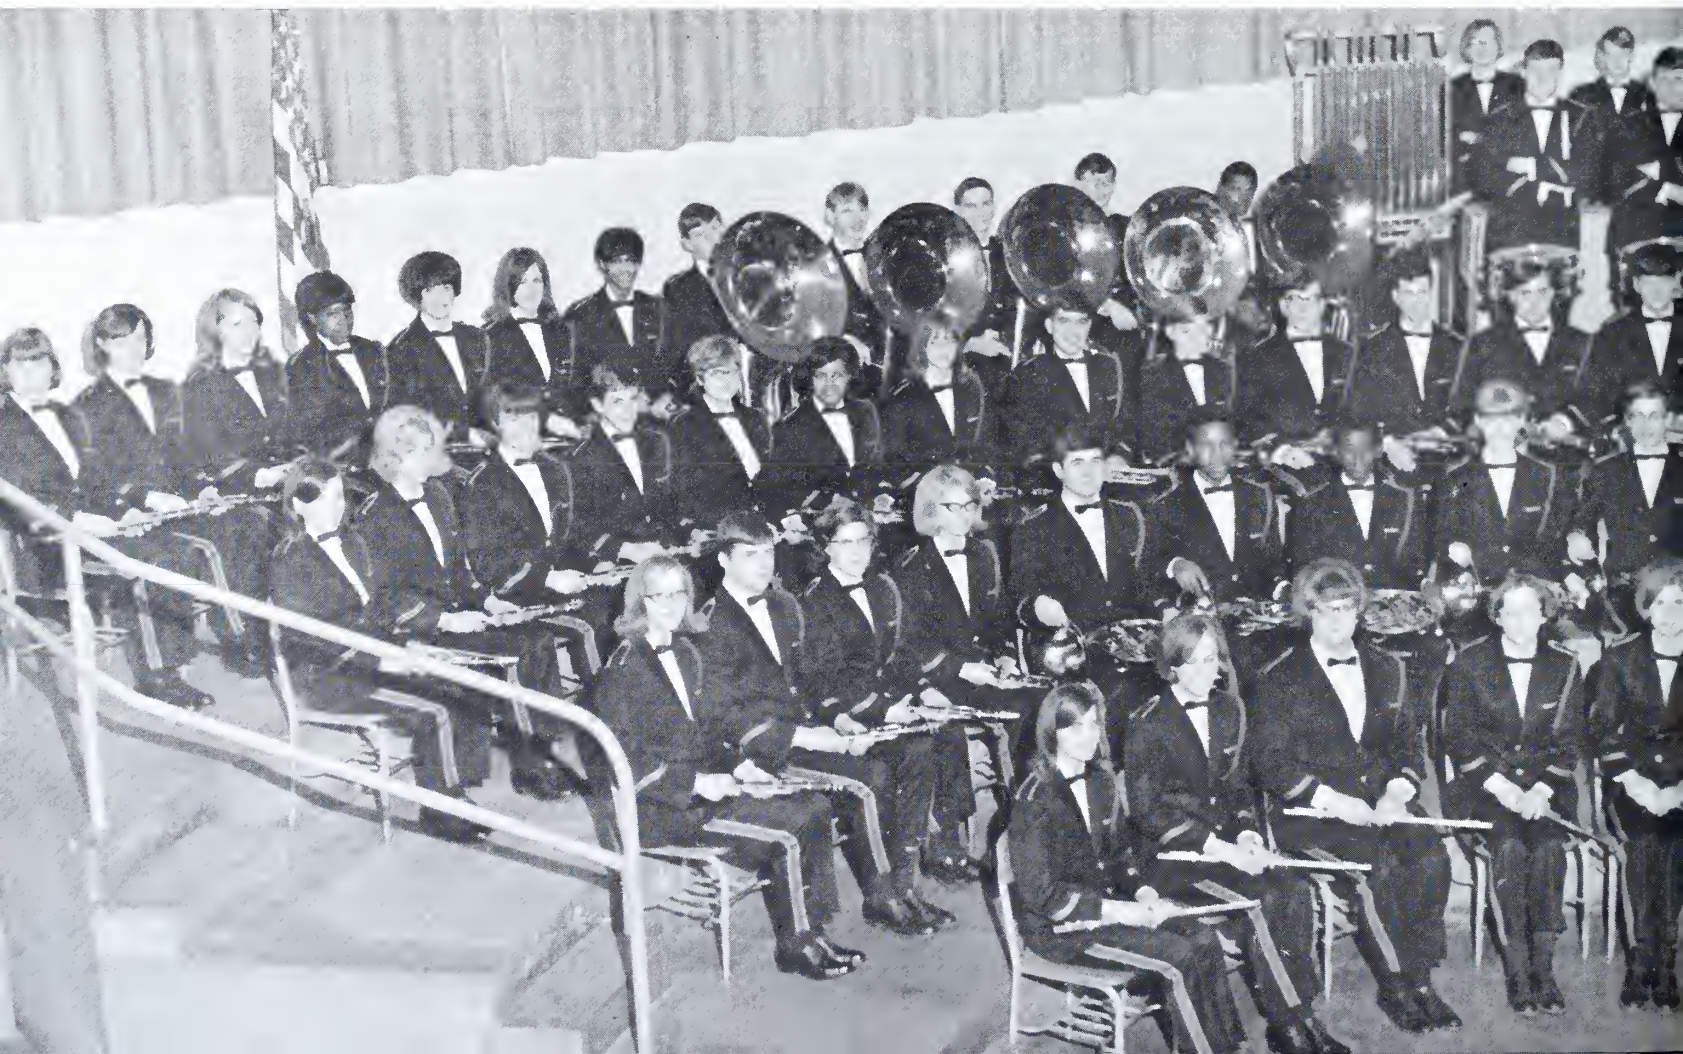

Drum Major Gordon Mills and Director William Kleyla marched the Band through football season, the Veterans Day Parade, Federal Inspection, and the Indiana School Music Marching Contest.

Mrs. Martha Cross and the Girls' Glee Club performed in both the Thanksgiving and Christmas programs. In March, the Glee Club joined the Band for the annual Band and Glee Club Concert.

The Choir, under the direction of Mr. Wendell Mertz, gave its first concert on the Circle at Christmas. The group participated in the All-City Choir festival at Clowes Hall in the spring.

The Orchestra, directed by Mr. Thomas Dic, made its debut at Christmas with a concert at School 35 and one at Manual. The musicians performed for other programs, but the highlight of the year was the combined spring concert with the Choir.

Manual's 'Press' Communicates to All Redskins

Ron Pieper and Terry Gardner check the effect of the "safety strip" they have mounted in the back window of a car. This was printed in red in the Booster for use in the safety campaign sponsored by the paper in February.

The Manual Booster added a sixth Freedoms Foundation George Washington Honor Medal this year to its accumulation of trophies. The award was for an editorial promoting the American Way of Life, written by Bob Smithers, last year's Page 2 editor. In addition, it brought a check for $100.

A citation was also received from the Indianapolis Tuberculosis Association for stories run in early December covering the Christmas Seal campaign and publicizing awareness of and controls for respiratory diseases. Manual's entries were forwarded to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for their nation-wide contest.

During February the Booster went all out campaigning for safety — driving, cycling, and walking. The Auto Shop cooperated by giving free brake adjustments for Manualites' cars. The Booster also ran a contest among Driver Education classes for safety posters. Barbara Clark won two Redskin Revue tickets for first place, and Rene Brown received one for second place. The posters were displayed throughout the halls. Booster won $125. for efforts.

Twenty-six issues were published with a noticeable increase in pictures, thanks to special arrangements with our engravers. Senior staffers received the usual razz gifts at the year-end picnic.

Freshmen Become 'Cub' Reporters

Head Photographer Keith Millay checks over operation of the staff's Speed Graphic with Sophomores Bill Hancock and Rick Shrewsbury. The boys also use a mamiya and a Polaroid.

The Booster Sports Staff discusses stories with Editor Steve Pieper who is typing the assignments. Bill Kaiser, Frank Knoll, and Ron Pieper write for both Booster and Ivian.

Cub Clubbers, freshmen interested in publications, attend weekly meetings in the Booster Office. Patty Stroud, Kathy Stace, Vicki Whitney, Merri Tucker, Mr. Howard Herron, sponsor, Angela Gibson, Debbie Johnson, Roberta Okey, and Sheila Douglas check galleys for the weekly paper.

Staff Drops Events into Place for Ivian Story

Co-editors Marianne Hedges and Shelly Johnson seem to find the cover design of the 1968 Ivian to their liking as they check final details with Art Editor John Jones.

Typewriters, copy paper, students, and teachers were the combination that put the 1968 Ivian together. Editors and copywriters worked all year, starting with spring sports '67, to compile a complete academic, activity, and athletic story of the school year — our Kaleidoscopic View.

Serious work on the Ivian began at the Indiana University High School Journalism Institute last summer. Co-Editors Marianne Hedges and Shelly Johnson attended and worked on layouts and copywriting. They returned to school ready to combine efforts with Mrs. Jane Gable, Publications Advisor for the yearbook.

Underclassmen had their pictures taken in the fall for the Ivian, and bought picture packs at the Ivian-sponsored "Pic Parade" in November.

Campaign sales were opened with an Auditorium skit based on the television show, "I've Got A Secret." Here Manualites got a preview of what would be coming in the 1968 yearbook.

Co-Editors Marianne and Shelly and Art Editor John Jones kept the cover color "top secret" all year. Its appearance was a surprise because of its being so different from the usual Redskin motif.

Rosiland Finley served as Senior Editor; Steve Pieper, Sports Editor; Joe Huff, Advertising Editor; and Sonja Groce, Faculty Editor.

WMHS, 'Citizens,' Debators Speak Out

Each morning before school, members of the Radio Club broadcast popular music, news, and weather bulletins to Manual students and teachers. The club uses a professional studio equipped with tape recorders, record players, and microphones. At meetings after school, members plan their "shifts" and work out special skits on current and historical events for the next week's programs.

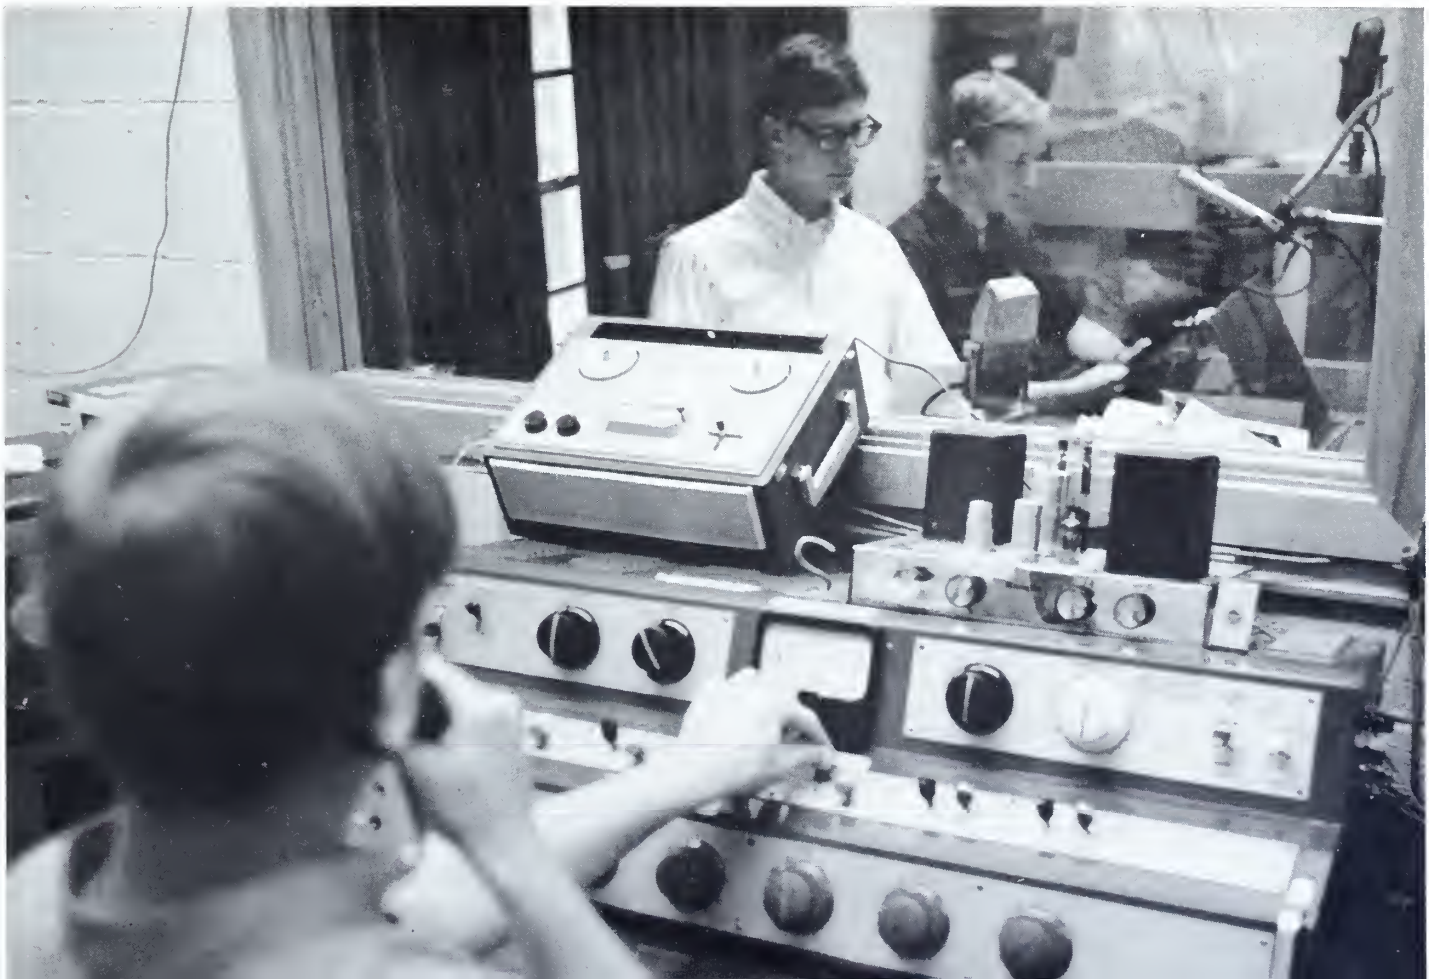

Members of Citizen's League began planning their year by attending the fall workshop of the Junior Historical Society at Spring Mill State Park in November. The club also visited the state museum and Conner's Prairie Farm later in the spring. As their projects this year, the group put up bulletin-board displays in classrooms in the Social Studies Department. Senior Judy Lewis was elected president of the state Junior Historical Society last fall.

Debate Club activities have centered around debates with other school organizations. The Science Club contested with the Debate Club on the topic of UFO's. The club meets weekly to discuss current problems and attempts to formulate solutions.

As a service of Citizen's League, Tim Mogle, Anna Carey, and Judy Lewis design bulletin board displays for classrooms. Checking the agenda, Mr. Robert Healy, Mary Abrams, Sharon Tompkins, and Mike Wallman schedule their next debate.

Announcers Dan Bowers and Mike Wallman, as seen through the control room window by Harry Stafford, give live news coverage every morning on the "morning show."

Spanish Club Parties in 'Espanol' Style

Miss Ann Manning, club sponsor, cuts a Spanish "log cake" for members dining at the Christmas Party in the Cafeteria.

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Miss Ann Manning and Mr. Carsey Gentry, has had two successful years at Manual. In September, the club members elected officers: President Cheryl Tanasovich, Vice-President Terry Gardner, Secretary Dora Gilly, and Treasurer Joyce Thompson.

Bi-weekly meetings are conducted in Spanish. Occasionally, however, members must speak in English when they are victims of loss of memory.

The club had its annual "Christmas Fiesta" in the Cafeteria the week before vacation. With the breaking of the pinata, students scrambled everywhere for the goodies it contained.

In March Spanish students were taken on a trip to Spain and Mexico via the slides of Miss Gloria Knowles and Miss Dorothy Carlton, student teachers. Mr. Robert Snoddy, English teacher, entertained on his Flamenco guitar while members tapped out the melodies. Outgoing officers and seniors were guests at the final meeting of the year in May.

Beverly Butler, Debbie Clark, and Carolyn Harding present a puppet show for a meeting. All puppets spoke in Spanish.

Kathy Henschen, Dora Gilly, and Terry Gardner serve themselves snacks during the Spanish Club's Christmas "fiesta."

Figures Fascinate Math, Science, Chess 'Men'

A Saturday morning lecture at the Children's Museum was a service of the Manual Science Club this year. Greg Fitzgibbons and Ron Nye spoke on Rocketry which was the club's main topic for discussion and experiment. The club built several rockets and experimented with them until the final details were complete for the launching of a live mouse inside one of the rockets. The purpose of this was to determine the effects of gravitation on both the mouse and the rocket. A field trip to the Eli Lilly Company, taken in the spring, gave members a different view point into the world of science. This year's officers were Greg Fitzgibbons, president; Joyce Thompson, vice-president; and Diane Shockley, secretary-treasurer.

The Math Club is open to math students of all levels. During their weekly meetings, members discuss areas of math not usually covered in high school textbooks. This gives more advanced math students a chance to excell and also creates an interest in the whole field of mathematics. The group planned several social events this year such as a Christmas party and a spring picnic.

Concentration is an important factor in playing chess as the Manual "chessmen" found out this year. The club involved itself in a play-off tournament in which their chess champion was determined.

Seniors Greg Fitzgibbons and Ron Nye discuss the functions of the Science Club rocket with Mr. Ray Schultz, sponsor.

Math Club Sponsor Harold Baumer checks problems with Leonard Yates, Dick Ross, Sharon Tompkins, and Allen Smith.

"Chessmen" challenge Chess Club members to better concentration. Senior Gary Paddock plans strategy for his next move.

FBLA, FNA, FTA Give Career Information

Future Business Leaders' President Sandy Baron, Secretary Susie Hughs, and Merrie Herbig and Cynthia Overton check the club's agenda for the year before a monthly meeting.

Manual's "future" clubs help prepare us to become future business and professional leaders.

The Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Miss Margaret Consodine, prepares members for the role of teachers. They learn the qualifications and qualities needed by teachers. Their schedule often includes speakers and films to help them decide whether or not they want to become teachers and to aid them in their preparation. They also review professional teacher magazines and have access to other teaching literature. Several senior members are in the cadet teaching program.

Those students interested in the "business world" find the Future Business Leaders of America their choice for extra-curricular activity. The members had speakers from various business occupations talk about their particular fields, and they made several field trips. Mrs. Nancy Huggard is club sponsor.

The Future Nurses Club is for girls who are interested in going into nursing or related fields. Mrs. Virginia Defourneaux, club sponsor, arranged for visitors to talk to the girls. Several members joined the Candy Stripers. These girls get first-hand experience serving as nurses' aids in near-by Saint Francis Hospital. New applicants to Candy Stripers had orientation during spring vacation.

Mrs. Virginia Defourneaux, school nurse and FNA sponsor, discusses the advantages of a nursing career with Candy Stripers Nicki Alte, Beth Hodges, Carolyn Ford, and Mary Henderson.

Future Teacher members — Barbara Kattau, Barbara Kottowski, and Lota Emery — with Miss Margaret Consodine, sponsor, discuss a testing bulletin showing modern teaching methods.

Red Cross Club members Debbie Kelley, Janet Webber, and Janet Lathrop discuss plans for a spring project.

Treasurer Pam Dallas, Diana Dallas, Vice-President Jane Davis, and Historian Peggy Wilson check the Y-Teens constitution.

Manual's traditional red Derbies dotted the Redskin cheering section Southport Fieldhouse during Sectional time. The derbies are sold by Tri Hi-Y each year. Clara Schelskey tries a hat on Judy Smith for size as Carolyn Frazee and Debbie Madden watch.

Red Cross, 'Y' Clubs Help Less Fortunate

Three Manual service clubs—High School Red Cross, Y-Teens, and Tri-Hi-Y—helped several Indianapolis hospitals and clinics through the year.

The Y-Teens gave a food basket to a needy family, clothed a child for Easter, and provided toys for the gift shops of La Rue Carter and Central State Mental Hospitals. Mrs. Irma Farthing was the sponsor.

Members of the Red Cross made wall decorations for the Veterans Hospital. They also bought supplies for a friendship chest, sent to soldiers in Vietnam. Aside from meeting every Monday afternoon, members visited the Red Cross Chapter House once a month where they heard various speakers. Officers and members worked under the leadership of their sponsor, Mrs. Blanche Ruston.

Mrs. Viola Hyndman sponsored the Tri-Hi-Y club. Their annual project was the sale of the red Derbies for Redskins to wear during Sectional games. The girls also made cancer pads which were taken to the Little Red Door, an organization for cancer victims. Speakers from the YWCA presented meeting programs every other Wednesday afternoon.

The Future Printers of America Club had a change in tradition this year when Senior Mae Mink was elected the first girl president in the history of the club. Other officers were Vice-President Wanda Thompson, Secretary Peggy Stroud, Treasurer Andy Newman, and Sargeant at Arms Robert Lee. Mr. Marvin Thorpe is the sponsor.

The club's schedule was filled with many field trips, including visits to Bemis Ink Company and to the H. Lieber Company to see photo finishing.

Mae Mink personally silkscreened all of the arm-bands seniors wore on Senior Day. The club stenciled an Indian head and "Manual" on some twelve-dozen sweatshirts which they sold to Redskins.

The Craft Arts Club meets every Wednesday after school. The projects they do are those too large to be done in a class. Their activities range from plastic sculpturing and blowprinting to working in ceramics, jewelry, and enameling.

The club also took a trip by school bus to Clowes Hall to view an exhibit of paintings.

Both the Craft Arts Club and the Future Printers sponsored booths at the P-TA Pow Wow in the spring. Members of Craft Arts manned their annual "Balloon Dart" booth. The Future Printers once again sponsored "Raceway" and "Slotway" for Manual racing enthusiasts, along with a brand new booth, "Holey Disc," which tested the skill of contestants.

Craft Arts Club members Pat Layden, Richard Patterson, and Bettie Lasley work at sculpturing at a meeting. After school on Wednesday's, members create their "masterpieces" using a variety of materials. Each person follows his personal likes in choosing his project.

Lettermen Promote Athletics, School Spirit

Every Friday Manual's red and white letter sweat-ers are very apparent in Manual's halls. Friday is the recognition day for the Block "M" boys.

The Lettermen's Club is an honor organization for outstanding athletes who have earned their Block "M's." They meet monthly on Fridays before school.

The purpose of the club is to promote better spirit among athletes, and to help better the athletic program. Officers were Seniors Larry Morwick, pres-ident; Lenny Brown, vice-president; Walter Jimi-son, secretary; and Junior Jeff McGuire, treasurer. Mr. Ray Schultz, sponsor, aided the officers.

The club provides the school with many athletic awards, and the members support all athletics and help the teams. This year the club invited eighth grade sportsmen from our district and they attended a football game as their guests. The boys also were introduced to the varsity players.

They sold tickets for wrestling matches and spon-sored a sock-hop after the meet with Howe. The club promoted ticket sales all year and awarded a free lunch to the students in the Home Room selling the most tickets for the Manual-Southport net game.

Varsity Gridders Rebuild with 4-5 Slate

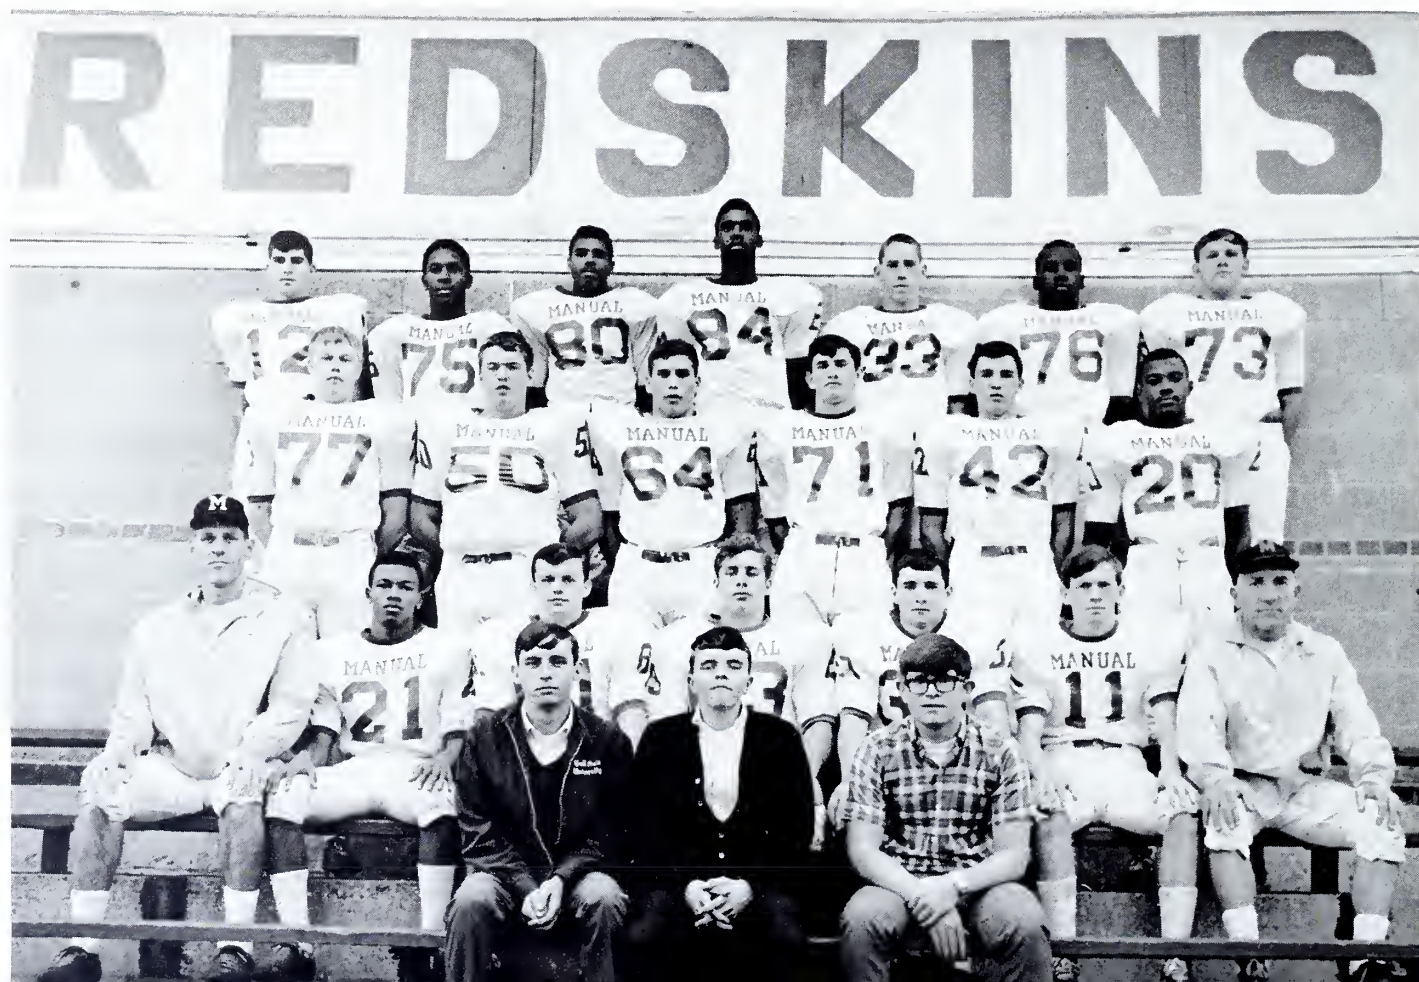

"We've got spirit" . . . as shown here by the Redskin bench and Coach Noah Ellis who enthusiastically celebrate a deciding touchdown which aimed the team to a respectable 4-5 season.

Manual's Varsity Football Team, under the direction of Veteran Coach Noah Ellis, ended its season with an impressive 4-5 record for what proved to be a massive rebuilding year.

With the loss of All-City, All-State Fullback Don Silas, fifteen other lettermen and, for the most part, the whole offensive backfield, Coach Ellis had many vacant spots to fill. Probably his brightest hope was Lenny Brown, lone returning letterman. Brown, who scored 52 points for the 'Skins last year, spear-headed the Redskin attack, scoring key touchdowns against Kennedy, Howe, and Cathedral.

Also returning for his second year of Varsity ball was halfback Larry Morwick. Morwick was an unexpected blessing as he virtually picked up where Brown left off. Morwick, who played defense as well as offense, was just as effective in stopping other teams from scoring as he was in carrying the ball for the 'Skins. Chosen "Redskin of the Week" more than once during the year, Morwick tallied a total of 36 points for the season. Morwick was a prolific scorer from short yardage. This, along with Manual's perfection of the power drive, allowed for his scoring of several TD's a game.

"Pulling the leg" of an Arlington ball-carrier is Defensive Guard Bob Bruce who toppled his man with the up-coming aid of Lineman Larry Potts in the Homecoming game. Arlington slipped past the Redskins on a last minute point-after-touchdown, 14-13.

Joining the Varsity ranks for the first time this season was Steve Brown, Redskin play-caller. With a Silas-centered ground offense gone, the Redskins switched to the air, and Brown was just what the doctor ordered. Teaming up with Bob Bruce, the duo completed many ground gaining passes, with TD's against Washington and Tech.

The Redskins opened against Kennedy in their annual season premier. The Spartans had the Redskins on the run with two quick TD's, but touchdowns by Steve Brown and Lenny Brown, and a 66-yard TD by Jim McDonald put the game on ice for the 'Skins. After loses to Washington, Howe, Cathedral, and Arlington, the Redskins poured on the coals and sunk three out of their last four defenders. The Redskins blitzed the Tech Titans with a single TD, 6-0. Steve Brown connected to Bob Bruce for a 15-yard goal. Larry Morwick carried the ball over the goal line twice, and Jim McDonald added a touchdown as the 'Skins edged out the Rockets of Broad Ripple, 20-14. The Wood Woodchucks were Manual's last victim before falling to Southport. Morwick toted the ball in his last touchdown of the season in what looked like a shut out. The 'Chucks, however, gained a safety and the game closed 7-2.

Terry Gingles cuts around the weak side to pick up short yardage for Manual against a tough defensive line rush.

Reserve Football Team Gains Experience

The Reserve Redskins, winning three of nine games this year and pulling a stalemate with Washington, brought the B-Gridders' 1967 season mark to 3-5-1. Leading the Reserves defensive squad, coached by Mr. Ray Schultz, were Joe Koenig, Don Crafton, Bob Kleis, and Kenny Roosa, a fine runner.

Opening the Reserve's season, just as last year, was a game with Washington. Guy Mager led the Redskins to their first touchdown of the game but was called back because of an offside penalty. In the final minutes of the game, Manual sparked alive to deadlock Washington 6-6.

The Hornets, who were a little too much for the Redskins, pulled a 13-0 victory giving them their first loss of the year. After a setback of two losses to Cathedral and Arlington, the B-squad pulled out a decisive victory over the Tech Titans. The Reserve's superior defense and expert rushing, and the fine running of Kenny Roosa, Ron Hotseller, and Dennis Garrity, all contributed to a 13-0 victory. Two close losses followed to Shortridge and Southport.

Two forfeits by Broad Ripple and Wood during the Reserve's season were another factor leading to the Reserve's final season record of 3-5-1.

Enthusiasm of Redskin fans seems undampened by this rainy night. Manualites flocked to watch their team—win or lose.

"What a mess!" 'Skins and foe in muddled uniforms pile up on a cold, slippery field. "Best team's in the 'dirty' white" on this occasion, as was true on several game-nights.

The Freshman team, under the direction of Coach Dennis Jackson, mustered an effective 3-4 season record. The Frosh defeated the Howe Freshmen to the tune of 20-12. The "Little" Redskins literally slapped the Hornets around the field as Eric Smith, Manual's play-caller, led the team to an explosive three touch-down victory. The Frosh then went on to defeat Perry East, 22-12, and Wood, 22-6. In the Perry East game, Gary Cannon was the individual stand-out with 13 points. The luckless Woodchucks never quite saw life as several fumbles told the tale, 22-6. The "Freshie" defense accounted for 14 points as Cannon and Roosevelt Owens, another backfield stand-out, tallied goals on Wood errors.

The Frosh averaged four yards a carry. Cannon ended with a 13-yard average. Dale Petrie ran the ball 18 times for a total of 132 yards.

Senior Alan Jay Stars for Cross Country Men

This year's varsity Cross Country team gave Coach Al Pike an even 5-5 record season for his first year as head mentor. Falling to the Redskin Harriers were Broad Ripple, Franklin Central, Marshall, Seccina, and Wood.

The 'Skins finished third out of eight teams in their first Invitational of the season at Seccina. In other important Invitationals the squad seemed to always finish in the middle. They came in seventh out of thirteen teams in the Southport Invitational, seventh out of thirteen teams in the Howe Invitational, and fifth out of eleven in the Northwest Invitational. It was the same story in the City Meet as Manual "crossed the line" seventh out of thirteen teams, for another respectable finish.

The Redmen made a great showing in the Sectional scoring sixth out of seventeen teams. Varsity MVP, Alan Jay, finished fourteenth out of some eighty runners. Alan almost caught the 10:04 home course record set by Gary Lock last year.

Although Alan will be a great loss to the team, Charlie Wheeler, Mark Janke, Steve Adams, and Dave Adams will be back to form the nucleus of next year's Varsity runners for Coach Pike.

The Reserve team ended up with a 4-3 record and finished fourth out of nine teams in the City Meet. The Frosh ended with a 4-4 season record and finished third out of eight in the City Meet.

Wrestling Squad Pins Down 5-8-1 Mark

Manual's 1967-1968 Varsity Wrestling season closed with a tough 5-8-1 record, winding up a rebuilding year for Coach Jack Foster. Junior Bob Kleis was named MVP of the squad after his win in Sectional competition following an outstanding year.

After starting the season in the loss column, the 'Skins streaked back with wins over Tech and Wood. In the Titan meet, Manual downed Tech, 23-21. The grapplers registered only one pin during the meet but gained six decisions. Dennis Demers started the line with a 3-1 win over his opponent. Following him were Dan Conlin, Darrell Simpson, Bob Kleis, Ken Martz, and Terry Gingles.

In the meet against Wood, the Varsity squeaked by the 'Chucks, 26-25. Demers, Kleis, and Gerald Sturgeon slating three-pointers to aid the victory.

As the season advanced into its final weeks, the Varsity spotted wins over North Central, Chartrand, and Decatur Central. The grapplers downed the Panthers 24-18, the Rams, 28-24, and Decatur Central, 25-17. In the Chartrand meet, Curtis Richardson pinned his matman in 55 seconds to win, followed with identical live pointers by John Morton, Carl Clark, and Kleis. Manual also tied Shortridge, last year's City Champs, 22-22 for a near upset.

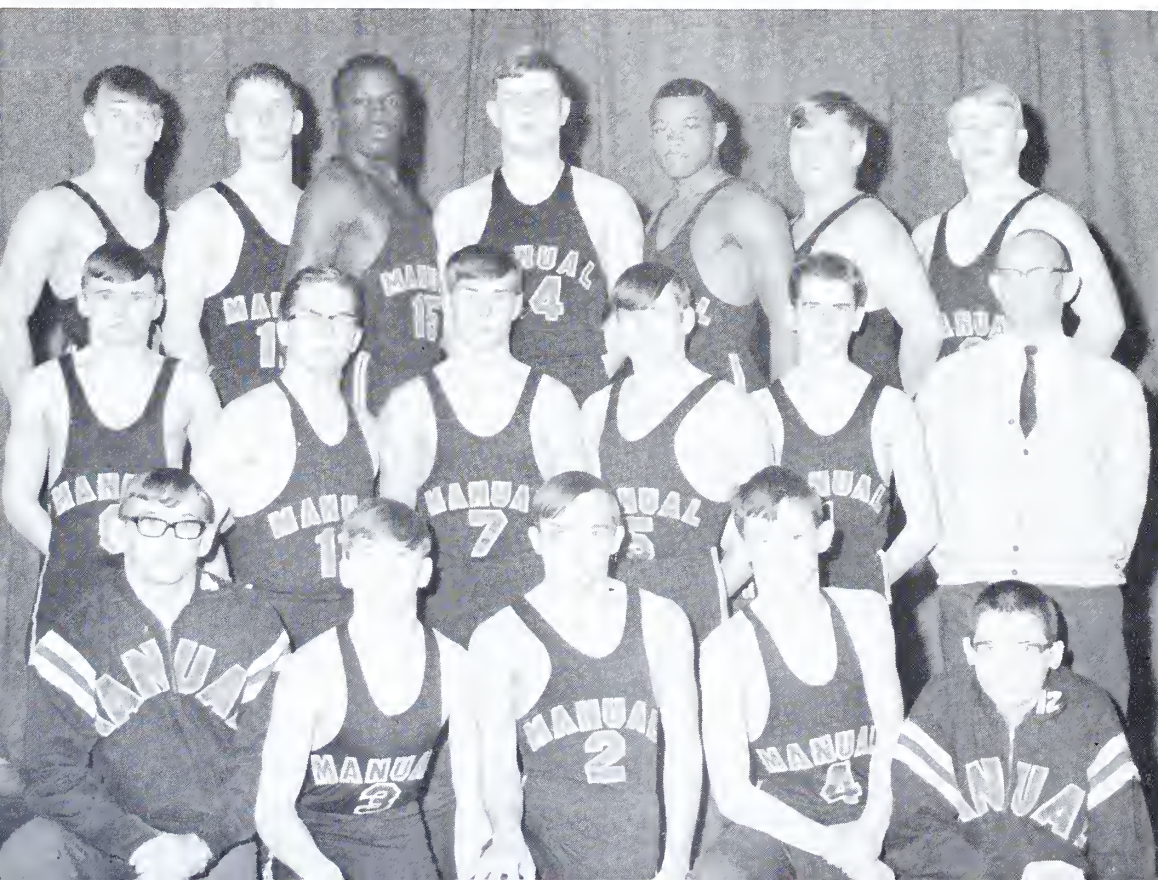

Returning to Varsity competition next year will be Conlin, Sturgeon, Kleis, and Don Crafton. Sophomores who should see Varsity action next year are David Adams, Terry Wilson, and John Morton.

Freshman Wrestlers appear to have what it takes to build an even stronger Varsity-Reserve squad for next year. The Frosh rolled up a fine 6-2 record this season and boast several individual standouts — James Dickson, Terry Langford, and Jeff Adams.

Bob Kleis, Manual's only wrestler advancing into Regional mat action this year, pins an opponent, a common occurrence.

Block 'M' Girls Lead Cheers throughout Year

Manual's cheering sections revolved around the leadership of twenty-two girls and one boy. Dressed in the familiar red and white uniforms, they led Mamalites in cheers throughout the year.

Miss Ann Becker, new at Manual in September, took over as the cheerleaders' sponsor. As a physical ed instructor and former college cheerleader, she proved helpful with new ideas and techniques.

Seven girls made up the Varsity squad, and seven, the Reserve squad. The Freshman team had eight girls and one boy, Charles Stanfield, a gymnast.

In early fall, the Block "M" girls painted "Redskins" in large red letters on the press box at the football field as a surprise for gridders and fans.

Reserve Cheerleaders Nancy Seyfried, Sandy Robinson, and Sally Stelhorn (front), Ruthie Smith, Janet Cain, Donna Collier, and Debbie Baker (back) support the "B" teams.

Varsity Cheerleaders follow the Varsity football and basketball teams to both home and away games. Brenda Buescher, captain; Jody Hafer, Nancy Elrod, and Sandee Baker (front), Judie Blonder, Diane McDonnell, and Regina Maple (back) pose with their red and white pom-poms.

To Spark Redskin Spirit

Cheersters planned routines and cheers for the 60-member Pep Club for both football and basketball seasons. They also made giant hoops, decorated with opponents' symbols, through which the basketball team entered the floor at all home games. The many posters which were displayed in the halls to boost Redskin spirit before each game were likewise their ingenious ideas and art work.

Cheerleaders attended the Fall and Spring Athletic Banquets and were cited during an all-school assembly when athletes were honored.

Five Varsity cheerleaders and six Reserves attended cheerleading camps during the summer. Judie Blonder, Regina Maple, Brenda Buescher, Nancy Ehod, and Sandee Baker represented the Varsity squad at Ball State. Reserves Ruthie Smith, Janet Cain, Donna Collier, Nancy Seyfried, Sandy Robinson, and Sally Stellhorn went to Vincennes.

Freshmen Peggy Meyers, Kathy Foster (front), Kathy Reed, Debbie Robertson, Sabina Wodarz (middle), Ilze Berzins, Denise Robinson, and Sharon Drake (back) make up the Frosh squad.

Roundball Goes 'Square' For Inexperienced 'Skins

Many fans don't realize how hard it is to get out on the floor and play your heart out and still lose, but that's what the Redskins did all season, every weekend. And what did they have to show for it? Three wins, and twenty-one miserable losses, and about 2,500 disappointed fans.

The 'Skins started the season on the right foot by defeating the Pioneers of Northwest, 57-56, on a set of free throws in the last minute of play. Manual then went on to trounce Southside rival Kennedy, 57-54. Gary Short tallied four field goals and four free throws for twelve points while teammate Jeff McGuire rallied for ten. The Redskins then sputtered, losing ten straight season games, beginning with a five point set back at the hands of the Irish of Cathedral, 79-74. The Redskins suffered losses to city rivals Wood, Washington, and Broad Ripple, climaxed by a 35-point drubbing at the hands of County Champ North Central, before getting in the winning column again.

Gary Short, Manual's "surprising sophomore," drives around an unprepared Kennedy guard in each season action.

Leaping high for this rebound is Forward Jeff McGuire who earned a berth on the All-sectional team at Southport.

Jeff McGuire Rates All-Sectional Status

Sectional time rolled around and Manual drew the Beech Grove Hornets for the third year in a row. The Hornets were rolling along with a not much better season than the Redskins, and the game was looked upon by all as just another elimination. Surprisingly enough to everyone, the contest provided much excitement despite the fact that the hapless 'Skins lost the battle, 63-43.

The Redskins couldn't capitalize on 24 Hornet errors and found themselves behind, 33-14, at the half. When the third period came up, the 'Skins found the mark, firing in eight straight points. Manual put up a strong defense but could not hold off a nine-point drive in the fourth quarter.

Jeff McGuire was selected for the All-Sectional team for performance in the game. Although McGuire scored only nine points against Beech Grove, his effort in the game proved his worthiness as a member of the team.

With a "hot" hand on the ball, Steve Brown, noted for his ball handling, darts for the basket during a Redskin attack.

Reserve Cagers Grab City Tourney Crown

The Manual Reserve Team, under the first-year instruction of Coach Fred Belser, enjoyed a more rewarding season than in several years. They slatted a 16-6 winning record and topped the cake by winning the City Reserve title.

In regular action, the roundballers toppled Kennedy, Northwest, Cathedral, Terre Haute Gerstneyer, New Albany, Wood, Lawrence Central, Arlington, Washington, Ben Davis, Broad Ripple, and Howe.

But the highlight of the year came when the "B" squad went all the way to capture the City crown. In the first game Arlington was the victim as the 'Skins downed the Knights, 45-36. Ritter was the second team to meet defeat, falling, 55-42.

Shorrledge, who had beaten the Redmen in regular season play, was whipped 49-10. Finally in the deciding game, Tech was the foe. The Titans had also topped the Manual hoopsters in season action, but this time things went in favor of the 'Skins who rolled over Tech, 46-11, to take the Tourney.

Next year the Varsity team should show improvement with such boys as Eric Frey and Roger Davis who were standouts on the Reserve Squad.

Although Coach Belser will lose several of his stars to the Varsity, he has a group of tall Freshmen moving up to fill his depleted ranks. The future looks brighter for all Manual basketball.

Rulus Keller and Rick Tyre were two "big" reasons for the Frosh success along with good average team size and desire to win. Coach Bill Rosenstihl and Assistant Coach Clark Dickerson will give much to next year's Varsity and Reserve teams.

'Mo's' Cinderman to Ten-Year Winning Ledger,

Manual's 1967 track team turned in another fine performance last season marking up nine wins against six losses. Coach "Mo" Moriarty, who broke the century mark last season in wins, had accumulated 110 victories to 43 losses over a twelve year period. The Cindermen, who haven't had a losing season since 1957, were led by MVP Don Stapert who racked up 1,100 points for the Redskin cause.

The 'Skins captured four medals in the Hoosier Relays while defeating such highly talented city foes as Chartrand, Arlington, Cathedral, Wood, and Howe. The Cindermen finished a strong sixth out of fifteen schools in the City Tourney. Stapert captured second in the high hurdles. Don Silas finished second in the shot put while teammate Dick Sandefur placed third in the 440. Manual's mile and half-mile relay team placed fifth, and Bill Calhoun finished fifth in the pole vault.

The biggest highlight of the season came in May. The "Thinlies" captured fifth place in the Washington branch of the Sectionals. Manual's mile relay team consisting of Lenny Brown, Dave Adams, Don Stapert, and Dick Sandefur put down all comers for the Sectional championship with a time of 3:31.7. Sandefur also took fourth in the 440, while Silas secured fourth in the shot put.

Dash for 9-6 Season

The Reserves and Freshmen teams had equally successful seasons. The "B" Cindermen marked up an impressive 5-1 record while the "Freshies" finished 5-4. The Freshmen compiled their record against tough area competition. Providing the spark-plug for many wins were first year trackmen, Dave Adams, Darrell Sparks, Dan McDonald, Gary Short, and Charles Gingles. Sparks set a new freshmen record in the 11½ mile with a time of 8:31.4.

Coach Belser's Braves Slug Out 14-8 Record

The Redskin Baseball team of 1967 proved to be one of the best in recent history as the ballhandlers compiled a 14-8 record for Head Coach Fred Belser. The 'Skins started the season off with wins over Ritter and Shortridge, then rolled through the rest of the season with 65 points against their opponents' 49 to set a team pace of a .635 percentage record.

Senior Mike Bottoms was voted the "Most Valuable Player" of the '67 season. Starting at short-stop for Manual and slugging an aggressive .354 batting average, Mike proved to be the team's best all around player.

Sophomore Jeff McGuire earned the honor of the top pitcher for the Redskin nine as he hurled a season record of 9-2. Jeff pitched a no-hitter against Brownsburg as Manual shut out the visiting diamondmen, 6-0, on the Garfield diamond.

Fine pitching and expert hitting won the 1967 Howe Invitational for Manual to add another laurel to the Redskins' trophy case.

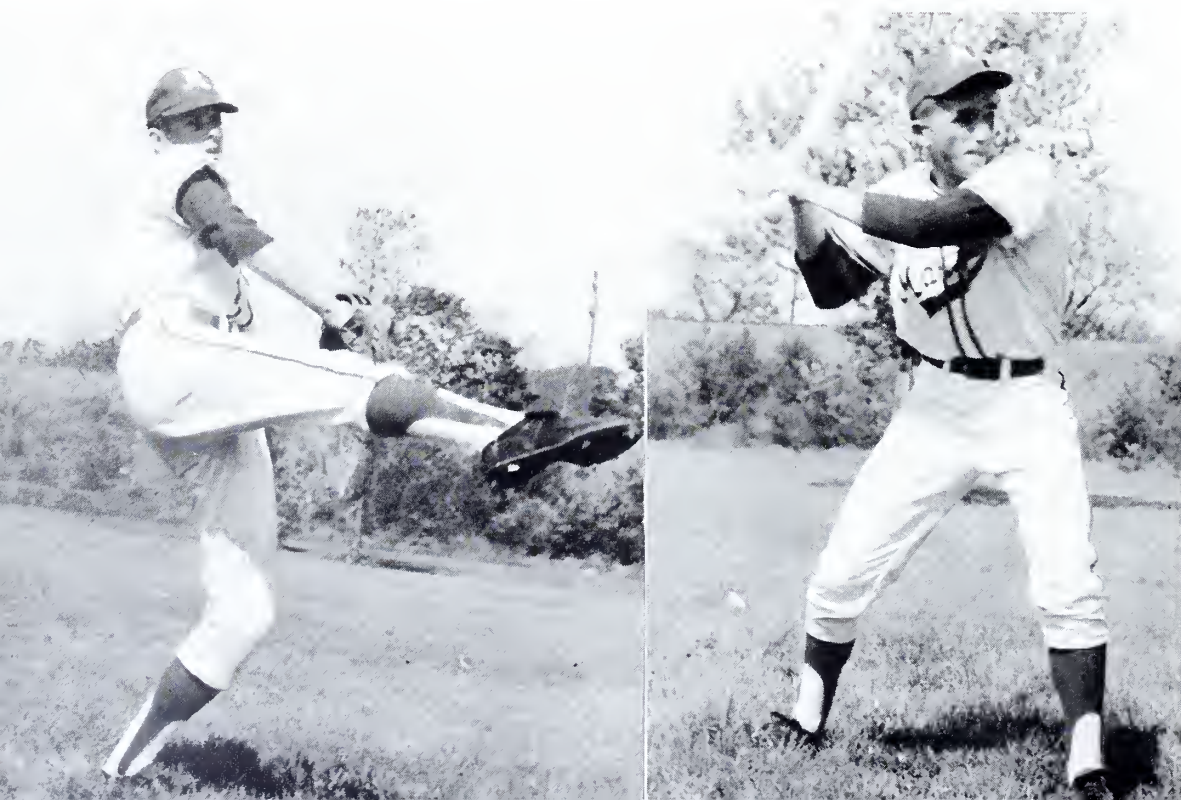

Seniors Bruce Hammond, Jerry Peters, and Mike Bottoms were the only lettermen lost from last year's squad. Larry Morwick, Bill Hedges, and Randy Harrison are a few regulars from last year's team returning for action this year for the Redskins. The 1968 season should be a good one.

Coach Belser went into this season with a well balanced team and powerful hitting. And with the power coming up from the sophomores and freshmen, the 1969 team could prove just as respectable.

Redskin Senior Bill Hedges makes a dash back to first base as the pitcher catches him off guard in a game last spring.

Divotmen, Racket Wielders Pursue Action

First year Coach "Woody" McBride's Golf team will be looking for "greener" pastures after last season's 4-9 record. The Divotmen swung their way to a ninth-place finish in the city.

Junior Bob Yocum led the team with an overall low average of 42.3. Teammate Steve Graves followed close behind with a 44 average.

Prospects for '68 looked good with only the loss of Steve Nordholt and Lewis Meo by graduation. Nucleus of the team, Yocum and Graves, were backed by Junior Mike Jones and Sophomore John Newman. Nordholt, Meo, Graves, and Yocum as Manual's Sectional team finished twelfth out of 22.

The Manual Racketmen, under the leadership of Coach Leland Walter, turned up an impressive 7-9 record through a difficult 1967 schedule.

Junior Darrell Allen led the team in the singles with an excellent 11-5 overall record. Randy Boles, who also returned this year, marked up seven wins against eight losses. In doubles competition, the team of Allen and Don Crafton proved to be a good combination with a 7-8 record. Both are looking forward to extending their wins this year.

With the return of seven men from last year's squad, the Racketmen have had a strong, experienced team going into competition throughout the city. Returning along with Allen, Boles, and Crafton were Senior Mike Borden and Juniors Mark Hedegard, Doug Allen, and Brent Riley.

Coach Leland Walter's Racketmen prepare to do battle on the Garfield courts with a rival city foe. Members of the team include Don Crafton, Randy Boles, Mike Borden, Darrell Allen, Mark Hedegard, and Brent Riley.

Manual's co-educational sport, bowling, provides fun for sports-minded Redskins. Marlene Pierce, Candy Taylor, and Scotty Johnson practice for tourney play at the Sport Bowl.

The 1967-68 school year saw a first in interscholastic competition for Manual girls. Miss Ann Becker organized two volleyball squads. The captain for the first string team was Junior Susie Hittle and the second string captain was Junior Shermetta Lloyd. The teams played other volleyball teams from Southport, Speedway, Ben Davis, Beech Grove, Warren Central, Wood, and Whiteland. Both teams finished the season with an undefeated record. Although this was the first time for Manual volleyball teams to play on an interscholastic level, the girls did a fine job.

Miss Becker also sponsored spring sports. The girls practiced golf and played softball on the field adjacent to the gymnasium. They played tennis on the Garfield Park courts, and had badminton matches in the gym. With the beginning of track season, girls participated in many different events, which included running the fifty-yard dash, organizing relays, competing in softball and basketball distance throws, and trying high jumps.

Intramurals Attract Fun-minded Redskins

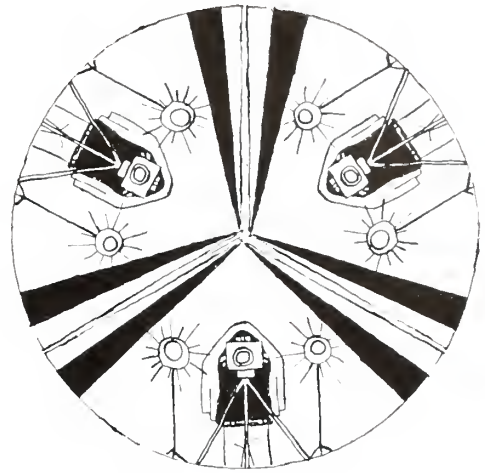

Manual's intramural sports provide hours of fun for many Redskins. Bowling, Manual's only co-educational sport, is open to all Manualites. Bowlers were divided into teams that bowled every Tuesday afternoon at the Sport Bowl. All bowlers met right after school for the trip to the alley in the Manual bus. At the end of the year trophies were given for high scoring in a series and to high scoring individuals. Mr. John Cedar was the sponsor.

Boys play intramural basketball from November through Sectional time and into March. This year 18 teams played every Wednesday evening in the gymnasium starting at six o'clock. Mr. Clark Dickerson was in charge of the two leagues. Membership in one was juniors and seniors, and the second was made up of freshmen and sophomores. An "All Star" team was organized using the best players from the 18 teams. It played against the "Faculty Fogies" on February 28 to an enthusiastic Redskin audience. The "Faculty Fogies," mostly coaches, won!

Some 130 Educators Cope with Our Learning,

Principal Wayne Kincaid commends Sgt. O. J. Nunnery, Commandant of Manual's ROTC, on his receiving a Freedoms Foundation Medal for "teaching responsible, patriotic citizenship."

Although education is their primary goal, Manual faculty members help students in all phases of school life. Just as we add extra curricular activities to our schedules, many teachers become involved as club sponsors and as coaches both in athletics and in dramatics and communications; and they seem to enjoy all this as much as we do.

Manual was well represented in teacher activities as many worked on state and local committees of their teacher organizations because they are always interested in the betterment of schools.

Our social-minded faculty got together for several parties during the year. A catered chicken dinner in the Garfield Recreation Building began the year's social events in September. The next teacher activity, a dinner dance at the Indianapolis Press Club, followed in January. At the close of school a luncheon always gives a send off to retiring teachers and to those who are leaving for other schools or other pursuits.

The faculty basketball team featured several of the more athletic men teachers. This team played the WIFE "Good Guys" and Intramural All-Stars.

Representing Manual teachers in the Indianapolis Education Association are (seated) Mr. Wendall Mertz, Mr. Wayne Spinks, Mrs. Polly Stark, Mr. Don Hannon, and Mr. Arthur Cook. Standing are Mr. Maurice Huckleberry, Mr. Harold Baumer, Mr. Noah Ellis, Mr. Donald Johnson, and Mr. David Otto.

President Richard Lloyd Wields Gavel for '68 Class

The year began as the fourth-year students assumed the responsibilities and privileges of the "top" class. Senior lunch line in the cafeteria ranks high in importance as does Senior Day and membership in honoraries like Masoma and Roines. The obvious responsibility is to set a good example in their role of leaders for all students to follow.

By the end of September, "politicians" were campaigning for class officers. Richard Lloyd became Senior Class president. His corps of officers were Linda Stegemoller, vice-president; Sue Fouts, secretary; and Jody Hafer, treasurer. These officers were assisted by the thirteen members of the Senior Council, one representing each Home Room.

Seniors donned their "gay apparel" for Senior Day. Each member of the class was entitled to wear an armband, designed by Senior Shirley Eaton, and a rose to distinguish him as a senior. During Home Room, the class pledged to uphold the high standards of Manual seniors. Class members were treated to a party in the cafeteria after school.

Many seniors participated in Turnabout Day, a part of American Education Week. Larry Morwick and Walter Jimison became Principal and Vice-Principal for-a-day. Others became classroom teachers, office staffers, and special area directors.

At Christmas time the Class took the opportunity to help less fortunate people. As their project they purchased a ping pong table and all its necessary equipment for the Children's Guardian Home.

The most important part of the year for Manual seniors comes in June. Capped and gowned graduates attend Vespers and Commencement as a result of four years of hard work. The Senior Prom at the Indiana Roof finished off the Senior year.

Top Ten Juniors for 1967, named on Junior Recognition Day, are Peggy Collier, Phyllis Stroud, Marianne Hedges, Diana Mills. In the second row are Vicki Fritts, Anne Ford, Don Goebel, Karen Cain, and Tina Pickard. Not pictured is Bob Sterrett.

"Old Pros" at disc-jockeying are Seniors Barry Blonder and Steve Hartsock. Several times during the year, including Senior and Junior Day parties, they provided music for student dances in the cafeteria. Steve and Barry have also gained experience in Radio Club, engineering morning programs.

Rings, Trees, and Prom Rate for Jolly Juniors

Admiring the handiwork of their classmates are Junior Class officers, Sandee Baker, secretary; Don Norcross, treasurer; Jeff McGuire, president; and Joe Tutterrow, vice-president.

Filled with holiday spirit, Junior Class members "deck the hall" with their traditional Christmas tree in the center of the main foyer. This is the class' annual Christmas gift to Manual. When the decorating was completed, tree-trimmers adjourned to the cafeteria for a Junior Class Party.

The school year for Manual's juniors began with an organization meeting followed by the nomination and election of class officers. The newly elected officers made plans for upcoming events in the school year, both academic and social.

In late September, juniors acclaimed their status when their class rings arrived.

College Night, December 6, gave juniors an opportunity to learn about the qualifications and requirements of colleges around the state.

Two weeks before Christmas, juniors assembled in the main hall for the annual trimming of Manual's Christmas tree, always a gift of the juniors.

Juniors dressed for their annual Recognition Day, March 6. Girls in colorful dresses and boys in dark suits made a nice contrast as they traveled the halls throughout the day and attended their after school party in the cafeteria.

On May 4, the fun-loving juniors were transformed into starry-eyed couples as they danced to the music of their Junior Prom, "Hawaiian Sunset," at the Indiana University Medical Center. Decorations were reminiscent of those "enchanted" isles.

The last meeting of the Junior Class was May 15. The treasurer's report and last minute details marked the end of an eventful year for the Class of '69.

Honda City

HONDA

Topping the "sporty ones" at Honda City is the brand new Scrambler 350. This newest Honda model is bigger and faster than last year's "big bike," the 305 Superhawk. Roaring to speeds up to 100 miles per hour and screaming through the quarter in 14.3 seconds, the 350 has to be every Honda fan's dream.

Honda also has a complete line of smaller motorcycles to fit the tastes and needs of every rider — and they all can be found at Honda City.

KAWASAKI

Honda City also has a complete display of Kawasaki motorcycles, headed by the hot Samurai 250-SS. This scrambler model, with 31 horses crammed into its twin-cylinder, air-cooled engine, tops-out at up to 105 mph and takes the quarter in about 15 seconds. Added features are the crossover, upswept exhaust system, and a 39-tooth sprocket to climb slopes up to 39 degrees.

But whatever interests you, Kawasaki produces the bike, and Honda City has the Kawasaki.

For each Manualite, another year has come to a close—and for seniors this year is the end of a long-to-be-cherished segment of their lives.

They are realizing what Emerson meant when he said
“The years teach much which the days never know.”

For all of our lives we shall reflect our school through what we have learned here not only from books but from experiences with teachers and friends.
